

RESCUE AND RELIEF WORK IS NOW BEGUN IN REAL EARNEST UNDER MILITARY PROTECTION

Physical Needs of Flood Victims in Dayton and Other Stricken Cities Being Provided For

THE DEATH LIST IS NOT SO LARGE

Many Found Refuge in Large Buildings Which Withstood the Rush of Flood Waters--Property Loss Is Enormous

Revised estimates which came in during the night from the flood districts of Ohio and Indiana showed that reports of loss of life in many cities and towns have been exaggerated.

The greatest anxiety is still centered about Dayton where an accurate estimate of the number of victims of the flood continued to be an impossibility.

The death tolls promised to be much less heavy at Columbus, Ohio, than the first reports from the western part of that city indicated.

In the parts of Dayton which have been explored by a motor both the death list has been greatly reduced from the first estimates and unless the number of victims in the north section of the city is found to be large the total number of dead in the entire city may not reach more than 200.

In Piqua, where more than 500 persons were reported to have been drowned, less than 20 comprise the total number of dead according to advices today.

In Chillicothe where the number of drowned were reported to be in the neighborhood of 500, the dead will not exceed 25. Indiana points continued to report improving conditions during the night with the estimates as death shrinking as more accurate reports could be made.

Dayton, Ohio, March 28.—The flood situation in Dayton today is this: Previous estimates of the number drowned are greatly exaggerated. The property loss from fire will not exceed more than a million and a half dollars. The damage caused to residences will run anywhere from fifteen to twenty million dollars.

The water has receded from the business section of the city and from a large portion of the residence section. Residents in portions still inundated are being taken to sections not affected by the flood.

There is no lack of food and the telephone systems have been restored. There is much suffering from cold, but all available food has been appropriated and there is prospect of immediate relief. So far there has been no epidemic of sickness.

Militia Arrives.

One thousand militia men arriving today have the city in rigid control, effectually quenching looting, sight-seeing that will interfere with rescue work and all disorder.

Touring the business sections today officials found the high stage of the flood was nine feet at the corner of Third and Main streets which is in the very heart of the city. The rushing water flooded the first floor of every store in the business district. This constitutes the chief financial loss.

The Tower of Steele high school was leveled and the Leonard building on Main street was undermined so that it collapsed. Many houses were swept away in Riverdale, west Dayton, North Dayton and Edgmont.

Buildings Give Shelter.

The following buildings withstood the flood furnishing shelter to about 7,000 people who were marooned in them from Tuesday to Thursday: Conover building, Kuhns building, the Arcade, two Cappel buildings, Calahan bank building, Schwind building, Commercial building, Menden hall building, Rice-Kuhler building, Riebold building, and United Brethren Publishing company's building.

The fire loss is positively limited to the destruction of the Dayton gas light and clock company's plant, the row of two and three story buildings on both sides of Third street and from Jefferson street to St. Clair avenue, the Try-Powell laundry plant and two apartment house fires on the west side. None of the public buildings were destroyed.

Employ Motor Boats.

A daring robbery was thwarted today when the police arranged a man who was escaping from the city with a satchel containing $50,000 in diamonds and jewelry which he had stolen from downtown jewelry stores.

A score of motor boats and the life saving boats were in the flooded district early today and by tonight it was hoped relief would be extended to all flood victims that were still alive. No effort was being made to take out any bodies, the first care being to provide help for the living. The boats began to return early from the nearer sections each depositing its load of from 15 to 20 survivors.

water in as many places as possible. There had been little hope there would be survivors in this district and the fact that there proved to be few deaths brought hope that the death loss would be lower than was expected.

After returning for supplies the life savers started for North Dayton.

To Protect City.

South Dayton, March 28.—Under strict martial law Dayton faced today the task of caring for an increasing army of refugees and of recovering the dead. With headquarters at Bamberger Park, Col. Zimmerman of the fifth regiment, Ohio National Guard initiated plans for the organization that will protect the city during the ensuing week of reconstruction.

Military companies from all parts of the state reached Dayton during the morning and by noon every accessible section was under guard. Members of the state board of health bringing car loads of lime and other disinfectants were expected to reach here before night and begin the work of warding off disease.

Appeals For Aid.

From his headquarters Col. Zimmerman listened to the appeals of more than 5,000 persons before noon. Hundreds of the visitors waited long hours in the five block lines of humanity that circled through the park up to military headquarters. Most of these sought passes to go through the flood area where they thought they had a chance to reach marooned friends and kinsmen.

Only a few of the throng were allowed to go and they were compelled to prove special causes before the passes were issued. To those who asserted they had starting friends imprisoned by the water Col. Zimmerman

Chicago relief fund for the flood victims reached $157,000 today and is being increased hourly by new contributions. The city expects to send the sufferers at least $200,000 in cash.

The United Charities which has been at work for several days collecting clothing rushed two carloads to Dayton this morning.

Captain Frank C. Garland of the government life saving station in Chicago was hurriedly sent today to Terre Haute, Ind., to assist in rescue work. His orders came two hours after he had returned from Fort Wayne where he and his men rescued six nurses and 69 children, flood-bound in the county orphan asylum.

Captain Henderson, in charge of the government life saving service in Chicago and vicinity received instructions today from Washington to open immediately all life saving stations in his district and employ all extra men necessary to respond to calls for assistance from the flood district. He prepared to send 50 horse power boats and yaws with crews to any part of the flood zone upon short notice.

President Wilson Ready.

Washington, March 28.—When President Wilson was advised today of the progress of Secretary Garrison's special train service toward the flooded district the president was still holding himself in readiness to go to Dayton at an hour's notice from the secretary. A special train of supplies leaves here late today.

Reservoir Holds.

Rockford, Ohio, March 28.—The Celina reservoir was today declared out of danger. The water here was slightly lower and none is flowing over the dam. Celina on the west and St. Mary's on the east bank reported the reservoir holding. There were no facilities near here.

Another Flood District.

Cincinnati, March 28.—Another flood-stricken village was heard from today when Coroner Postmeyer was notified that 32 lives had been lost at Venice in Butler county. The dead were members of five families. One mother was saved.

Begin Rescue Work.

Columbus, March 28.—Some definite idea as to the total number of persons who lost their lives on the west side of Columbus when the Scioto river broke through the levee is expected to be gained today. At day-break this morning hundreds of rescue and relief parties started for the flooded section with supplies of clothing, food and fuel.

Today dawned crisp and cold, but clear and indications were that it would get much warmer before evening. Flood sufferers suffered greatly last and this morning from the cold. However, the river is receding rapidly and rescue parties will be able to reach many inundated sections of the west side which were under water yesterday.

Under Martial Law.

West Columbus remains practically under martial law. Militia companies on duty have been ordered to shoot looters on sight. Thousands of curious people and those with friends and relatives in the flooded district are being kept out of the west side by police and troops.

The city relief station at the city hall and the newspapers are maintaining and compiling lists of the rescued as well as lists of the dead. Scores of persons are still unaccounted for and the officials are making desperate efforts to verify reports of persons being drowned.

Take Hopeful Attitude.

West Dayton, Ohio, March 28.—Backed up by the militia and hundreds of special deputies, the citizens' committee in charge of relief work in the various sections of the flooded city have a tight hold on the situation today. The work of clearing up the chaotic condition brought on the flood is progressing with marvelous speed and rapidly. President C. B. Smith of the chamber of commerce, expressed the prevailing sentiment today when he said:

"We do not want the world to think that Dayton is unable to recover from this flood zone of Indiana and

FLOYD ALLEN DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Leader of Virginia Outlaw Band Executed Shortly After Noon Today—Is Followed By Son.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Richmond, Va., March 28.—Floyd Allen, leader of the outlaw band in Carroll County was executed in the state penitentiary this afternoon. The aged prisoner was terribly unnerved by the excitement to the delay of six hours in carrying out the sentence and went to the chair at 1:20. He was pronounced dead at 1:25.

The prison guard next brought Claude Swanson Allen, son of Floyd into the death chamber at 1:30. He was executed at 1:35.

ARREST DULUTH MAN FOR SWINDLE GAME

Postal Authorities Apprehend Daniel, Who Was Conducting Big Iron Mine Fraud.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Duluth, Minn., March 28.—With the arrest last night of Daniel Bartlett, apprehended by United States postal authorities, it is believed one of the cleverest swindles ever worked in the middle west has been stopped. Bartlett is charged with using the mails to defraud, selling stock in an alleged iron mine. Bartlett, according to the accusation, wrote letters with fictitious signatures, offering stock. The letters stated that the writer, while boring for water on a barren land in Michigan, had struck ore. Forged certificates bearing the signature of Prof. L. E. Austin of the Michigan school of mines at Houghton showed the alleged assay value of the ore. Daniel Bartlett of Hiles, Wis., was named as the owner of the property. Bartlett waived examination and was held to the federal grand jury.

OHIO PAPER MILLS HAVE HEAVY LOSSES

Seventy-five Plants in Miami Valley Are Supposed to Be Out of Commission.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Appleton, March 28.—It is believed by George Hitchcock, formerly of this city, who is now here on business, that all of the twenty-five paper mills in the Miami valley, Ohio, are out of commission. The mills have a total of fifty machines. Included in the list is the Acacia Paper company's plant at Dayton which manufactures envelopes for the government. The plant has a daily capacity of 50,000 pounds. Mr. Hitchcock says that every kind of paper excepting print, was made in the valley. He represents a felt mill at Piqua, which he supposes is under water, but he is unable to hear from the company. He stated that all of the paper mills are situated low in the valley and the water is bound to swamp them. The mills former Senator Albert Beveridge owns are the lowest in Dayton, being surrounded by dikes, and Hitchcock believes it was impossible for them to escape the worst of the rushing water.

PROMINENT MEN ADDRESS CENTRAL ILLINOIS TEACHERS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Springfield, Ill., March 28.—The Central Illinois Teachers' Association, one of the oldest and most influential organizations of its kind in this part of the country, began its annual convention in Springfield today with a large and representative attendance. The program extends over two days and provides for addresses by Governor Dunne of Illinois, former Governor Hadley of Missouri, President George E. Vincent of the University of Minnesota, Prof. W. C. Bagley of the University of Illinois, and Francis G. Blair, Illinois state superintendent of public instruction.

THREE HUNDRED FIFTY DOLLARS SENT TODAY FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS

FIRST INSTALLMENT OF MONEY SUBSCRIBED FORWARDED FOR IMMEDIATE USE.

MORE MONEY NEEDED

Mayor Fathers Issues Appeal to Citizens Generally to Subscribe—Churches All to Take Collections.

Three hundred and fifty dollars, part of the funds already subscribed and paid in in response to the appeal for aid for the sufferers from the floods, was forwarded this afternoon to Colonel Wilson, Columbus, Ohio, who has charge of the relief funds and was designated by Governor James Cox of Ohio as custodian of all monies by Western Union Telegraph.

pense, from our son at Dayton as follows: "We are safe. Martha, (Mrs. Mathew's sister in the worst submerged part of the city) probably safe as all the residents on Maple street have been rescued."

"I don't know anything further or about our church people except in an indirect way. Great damage was done to our publishing house, to the First United Brethren church and to the Riverside and Edgmont churches. I think they are being cared for from Cincinnati, Columbus, Richmond and Chicago."

The local United Brethren church will take up a collection on Sunday for the benefit of the church in the flood stricken regions.

In Four Churches.

Collections for the benefit of the flood sufferers will be taken in the Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches on Sunday.

OFFICE OF MAYOR.

Janesville, Wis., March 28, 1913.

To the People of Janesville:—

A terrible calamity has, through storm and flood, befallen the people of our sister states—Ohio and Indiana—and many thousands of people are homeless, unprotected and suffering for the necessities of life and are in great need and distress. To do real good to the needy and suffering, it must be done immediately.

Therefore, I urge upon our people to respond as liberally as your circumstances will permit ANY SUM OF MONEY, that it may be forwarded immediately to aid stricken humanity in the afflicted and storm-ridden district. Janesville should not be behind, in this great work of relief. Arrangements have been made with all of the banks to receive and receipt for any sum given, or it may be left with the Gazette Printing Company, where a splendid list has already been started.

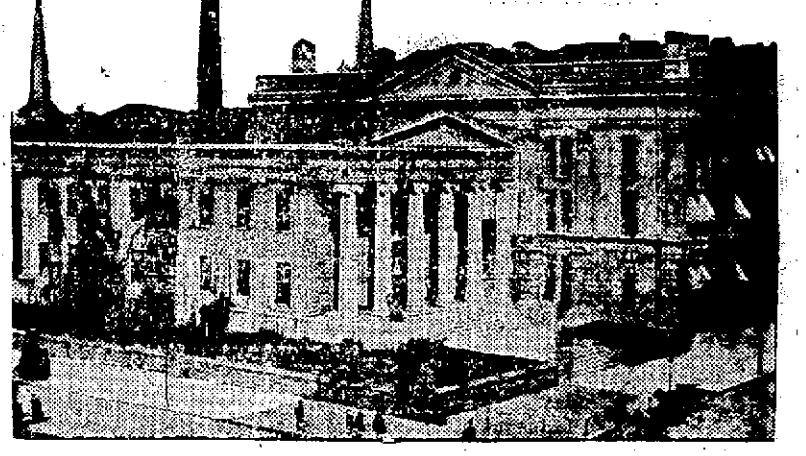

Act quickly and liberally, to the end that the funds donated may be immediately sent to the proper authorities for distribution.

JAS. A. FATHERS, Mayor.

Nearly five hundred dollars has been subscribed, though not all paid in and it is expected several hundred more dollars will be available to be forwarded tomorrow afternoon. The telegraph from Governor Cox, telling of the awful conditions speaks for itself.

ANTI-FRATERNITY BELL IN HOT FIGHT AT ASSEMBLY
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, March 28.—The fight to abolish fraternities in the university was moved to the floor of the assembly today by a vote of 45 to 32. The House substitute, which forbids secret societies in high schools, was rejected. Thereupon, with the submission of nine amendments to the Anderson bill it was decided to fight it out on April 9.

HAD CLOSE ESCAPE FROM OHIO FLOODS

MR. AND MRS. J. P. CULLEN CROSS RAILWAY BRIDGE THAT IS WRECKED.

HALF HOUR TO SPARE

Train Crosses Structure With Water Up to Ties—Water up to Eaves of Houses—Some Afloat.

To cross a railway bridge thirty minutes before it was swept away was the thrilling experience of two Janesville people, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cullen who returned to this city at nine o'clock Wednesday evening from Washington, D. C. This incident occurred at Defiance, Ohio, where the Baltimore & Ohio Railway crosses the Maumee River. Just before the train arrived at that place and power company's dam above the city had given out due to the pressure of the high water. As this was a considerable distance away it was deemed advisable to proceed and it cautiously crossed the bridge over the river, which at that time was nine feet feet above the highest previous record and almost up to the bridge's sills. Two tracks on the embankment that formed the approach had been swept undermined, and upon the embankment were hundreds of men, women and children, some of whom had doubtless been driven from their homes. Not half an hour after the train had crossed the bridge, water was reported that it had been swept away.

Floods delayed the arrival of the train at Chicago by nine hours and made it necessary for it to take a round-about route because large sections of the Baltimore & Ohio tracks had been washed out or rendered unsafe. Mr. and Mrs. Cullen left Washington at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, but nothing was learned of the flood until Pittsburgh was reached. There was no traffic between that city and Chicago Junction because the tracks were under water. From Pittsburgh to Cleveland the train passed over the Pennsylvania tracks, then over the Nickel Plate right of way to Loraine, Ohio, and to Kinsland, Ohio, where it reached the Baltimore & Ohio line.

The first signs of the floods were seen at Tiffin, Ohio, and from that place to Defiance, the train skirted the northern border of the inundated region. At Tiffin the water was rushing through the business streets of the city four or five feet deep, and the river was a raging torrent in which no boat could be handled. Fifty lives are reported lost at this place. Conditions at Defiance appeared even more serious. The water was higher, more of the houses were afloat and many were submerged up to the eaves. All the traffic bridges over the river was a raging torrent in which there was no communication between the two sides of the river after the railway bridge was swept away. After Defiance was left but little was seen of high water and its effects. The passengers were in a state of high nervous excitement all the time the train was in the flooded part of the state, and the train crews excited. The train, which was due into Chicago at 9:30 o'clock in the morning did not arrive there until 5:30 in the evening and was the first train to arrive from the east since the floods.

Mr. Sackett brought out Miss Padden and during her early association with the United Play Company entertained great admiration for her, justified by the great success she has made in her art. Recently she has been touring the south where the play has been greeted by audiences that packed the theatres to their capacity. The wedding is to take place at Chicago in May.

POSTPONE HOLDING TRIAL OF JUSTICE J. A. SMITH

Adjourned Until Wednesday Morning, April 2—Attorney for Defendant Out of City Today.

Because of the absence from the city of Louis A. Avery, attorney for the defendant, the trial of the state versus Justice of the Peace J. A. Smith of Edgerton, was postponed until Wednesday morning, April 2, when the case was called in the municipal court in morning. Mr. Avery had business in Monroe that required his presence there today. Justice Smith is charged with failure to report the conviction of Richard Doessel on August 8, 1912, and with failure to turn over to the county treasurer the fine collected by him.

OHIO RIVER FLOOD CONTINUES TO RISE AT VARIOUS POINTS

Weather Bureau Issues Warning at Evansville—Encouragement is Seen From Situation at Pittsburgh.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Evansville, Ind., March 28.—The Ohio river today showed a rise of 5.2 feet since last night, and United States Weather Forecaster at Pittsburgh, Pa., issued a warning.

All stock and movable property affected by a 48 foot stage of the river at Evansville should be moved before sundown tonight.

Mayor Heilmann is directing the collection of lifeboats and motor boats to move people from flooded districts. In addition the city authorities are constructing flood gates to keep the rising water out of the city. A record breaking flood stage of the river is feared.

Wheeling, W. Va., March 28.—The Ohio river today reached 50.8 feet today and was rising two inches an hour. The report from Pittsburgh that the Ohio was stationary at that place was most encouraging news to the entire district and gave hope that the predicted record-breaking flood would not develop.

Hundreds of persons driven from their homes by the high water, walked the streets of this city and surrounding towns during the night, unable to secure shelter. There was little actual suffering, however, as the night was not cold.

At Pittsburgh, Pa., March 28.—The Ohio river stage here reached 30.5 feet at eight this morning and then became stationary. Information from up river points on the Allegheny river from which the flood came is that the river has begun to fall.

Rises at Louisville, Ky., March 28.—The Ohio river registered a stage of 33.4 feet at 7:30 this morning, a rise of 4.8 feet in the last 24 hours. It was then rising at the rate of about 2 inches an hour.

Mississippi Rising. Memphis, March 28.—The Mississippi river here marked a stage of 33.2 feet, a rise of 7.7 within the past 24 hours.

LINK AND PIN HALT TICKET SALE TO FLOODED REGIONS

Railroads in Flooded District Refuse to Sell Tickets Because of Unsafe Conditions.

Both the St. Paul and Northwestern railroads refuse to receive orders from the officials of the roads whose lines run through the flooded districts, that no through tickets are to be issued to the affected territory. Because of the crippled condition of roads no trains to Dayton or to any of the stricken cities are sure to reach their destination and such lines as the Baltimore and Ohio and the Pennsylvania lines refuse to sell tickets to the flooded parts. At the two Janesville stations orders to that effect were received and are to be complied with until further notice.

Many Janesville people have tried to reach relatives from whom they have not heard from but it is nearly an impossibility to reach Dayton. The only way a passenger can obtain a ticket to the submerged part of Ohio is to buy a ticket to Chicago and to try and get passage from there. Traveling is very dangerous in the flooded district as the roadbeds are badly flooded and in an unsafe condition. The Jones Juvenile Concert Company, who were to give an entertainment at the Baptist church on Wednesday evening were enroute here from Libertyville, Ohio, when the train was wrecked on a bridge and the entire train went into the river. No one was badly injured as all the passengers escaped through the windows. Several Janesville people who have left for Ohio were refused tickets at Chicago or were warned of the unsafe condition and were forced to return.

George Weber, employed on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad as engineer on the night switch engine, fell from the running board of the engine into the cinder pit a distance of about ten feet. The pit is brick lined and it was very fortunate that Mr. Weber sustained nothing more than a bad sprained arm. He was able to walk to his home after the accident and will be able to work within a short time.

UGH! HOW CHILDREN HATE CASTOR OIL

TO CLEAN THE LITTLE ONE'S STOMACH. LIVER AND WASTE—CLOGGED BOWELS GIVE GENTLE "SYRUP OF FIGS."

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the physic that mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them. How you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. The day of harsh physic is over. We don't force the liver and bowels now; we coax them. We have no dreaded after effects. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their little stomachs and tender bowels are injured by them.

If your child is fretful, peevish, half sick, stomach sour, breath feverish and its little system full of cold; has diarrhoea, sore throat, stomach-ache; doesn't eat or rest well—remember—look at the tongue, if coated, give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, then don't worry, because you surely will have a well, smiling child in a few hours.

Syrup of Figs being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics simply cannot be harmful. It sweetens the stomach, makes the liver active and thoroughly cleanses the little one's waste-clogged bowels. In a few hours all sour, bloated, undigested fermenting food and constipated waste matter gently moves on and out of the system without griping or nausea.

Directions for children of all ages, also for grown-ups, plainly printed on the package.

By all means get the genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna" prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. Accept nothing else.

will be celebrated at St. Patrick's church at nine o'clock tomorrow morning. Interment will be made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

BOY NEAR DROWNING THROWN LIFE-LINE

Louis Meissner, City Employee, Saves Life of Boy Who Fell Through Ice on Ravine Pond.

Quick thinking on the part of Louis Meissner, who drives one of the city's wagons, undoubtedly saved a nine or ten year old boy from drowning yesterday afternoon in a pond at the bottom of the Ravine at the corner of Garfield and South Third streets. Meissner and James Sennett heard the cries of the boy as they approached that part of the ravine, a few minutes after four o'clock. Both at once ran to learn their source and saw a young boy out in the pond, standing in water up to his neck and with one arm on the ice through which he had broken. Dead branches that lay at hand proved too short to reach the boy, but Meissner quickly removed the boxes from the harness of the horse, snapped them together, and with a skillful throw, brought the further end within two or three inches of the boy's hand. He was able to grasp this and the efforts of the two men were sufficient to draw him ashore. Mr. Meissner did not learn the name of the boy, or any other information about him, except that he lived on Ringold street. The water where the boy fell in was six or seven feet deep and so cold that the boy would undoubtedly have become cramped, lost his hold, and drowned, had his rescue not been prompt.

Manager Joe Tinker of the Reds is worried because Charles Victory Faust, the noted jinx disperser, now a "free agent" through the failure of the Giants to send him a contract prior to February 1, will join the Reds at their training camp at Mobile. It is said that Joe has instructed the police to watch out for Faust and head him off.

Team harness racing, popular twenty-five or thirty years ago, probably will be revived in the Grand Circuit this season. Interest has been re-aroused in it since last fall, when C. K. G. Billings' pair of trotters, Uhlan and Lewis Forest, on the Lexington, Ky., track, reduced the record to 2:03 1/4. Men of wealth promise to become interested in the event, especially if a trophy is offered instead of cash stake.

There has been a tough time for the recruits being tried out by the Philadelphia Quakers. According to latest reports, not one has been able to jimmy his way into the regular line-up, and the team of last year will line up intact with Luderus, Knabe, Doolan and Lobert in the infield, and Magee, Paskert, and Cravath in the outfield.

The Washington players have been showing all sorts of pepper in practice. They are trying to acquire the habit, so that when the regular season starts they can continue their spicy work. They believe that it has a discouraging effect on an opposing team to see the infield cutting up all sorts of dummies in practice before a game. Foster, McBride, Laporte and Morgan and Gandil are getting faster every day.

New York football enthusiasts are trying to get the Army and Navy to schedule their annual game at the New York Polo Grounds instead of at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, where the contests have been held in years gone by. The stands at the Polo Grounds seat 40,000 people, while the best those in Philadelphia can do is 28,000. The two government academies have not agreed to go back to Franklin Field next fall, and New York's chances are said to be good.

Eddie Mensor is causing a big stir with the Pittsburgh Pirates right now. The little Pacific Coast Leaguer who made his big league debut last year as an outfielder and failed to make particularly good, has been shifted to the infield, where he is kicking up all sorts of dummies around second base. He is causing all sorts of worry to Artie Butler, who thought he had the job nailed down. His only weakness seems to be at bat, and he is said to be a mighty good waiter there. Critics advise that he be watched carefully as a star of growing proportions.

JANESVILLE PLAYS SEMI-FINAL TODAY; ARE PICKED TO WIN

Meets Menomonic Team This Afternoon After Defeating Wausau

By Safe Margin Thursday

Thursday's Results.

Appleton, March 28.—Janesville meets Menomonic this afternoon in the semi-final of the championship basketball tournament. La Crosse and Ashland, the other two teams that qualified for the race in the contests yesterday, will also meet this afternoon. Wausau, Racine, Fond du Lac, and Oshkosh were the teams eliminated Thursday.

The big surprise of the games played on Thursday was the defeat of Oshkosh, rated as the possible winners of the tourney. Ashland, classed an outsider, was the winner. The Northern five outclassed their opponent and led throughout the game which was a pretty one and featured by heavy scoring on both sides. Simpson and Engelke, the two centers were the stars of the game.

In the other games played Racine gave Menomonic a hard fight, but finally succumbed to superior play, 41 to 31.

In the other two games played the visitors outclassed the losers, Fond du Lac proving a poor opponent for La Crosse, although they held the western team to a low score of 27 points. Wausau lost to Janesville, 58 to 38. The scores:

Summaries of the Janesville-Wausau game:

Janesville	G.	FT.	F.
Atwood, lf	3	0	1
Edlton, rf	0	0	0
Hemming, c	8	1	3
Falter, rg	4	0	1
Totals	26	1	5
Wausau	G.	FT.	F.
Christian, lf	5	0	1
Swanson, rf	4	0	3
C. Engrecht, c	5	0	1
O. Engrecht, rg	0	0	0
Schmidt, lg	5	4	1
Totals	19	4	5

A special report of the Janesville game was received by the Gazette today. It is as follows:

The second game of the afternoon was real basketball. Janesville and Wausau looked evenly matched for a short time, but the size and weight of the Janesville five, coupled with the apparent fact that they are better drilled in the finer points of the game, soon told on the central Wisconsin champions. Both teams scored within the first minute of play. Three plays were required to allow Hemming, for Janesville, to score the first basket. Less than fifteen seconds had elapsed from the time the two centers slipped into the ring. Schmidt for Wausau, was a close second in the scoring, getting a basket before a minute was up. Dalton and Edler pulled off a new fancy stunt during the next ninety seconds of play that resulted in Janesville's score being boosted six points. The Rock county boys took courage at the splendid start and set the scoring machinery in full motion. Before the Wisconsin valley boys could reverse the situation the Janesville five had taken a lead of four baskets. Swanson missed a free throw, the first foul of the game after four minutes of play, and Janesville romped the oval down the floor for two points, the ball changing hands only three times on the play.

Tie the Score. With the score 10 to 2 in favor of Janesville, Wausau took a spurt and while Janesville was apparently glued to the floor the Wisconsin river quintette pulled up to a tie. Atwood broke the scoreless spell for the southerners and his clever back-hand throw seemed to throw the adversary into a trance. For Janesville, within the ensuing two and one-half minutes, piled up five baskets and two free throws, a total of twelve points, putting Wausau almost hopelessly out of the race as far as the result of the first half was concerned. Edlton for Janesville shot a beautiful basket from the side lines just before the half whistle sounded. The half ended 27 to 12 for Janesville.

Falter set the pace in the opening of the second half and Schmidt for Wausau scored a free throw on Atwood's foul. Janesville scored eight points in rapid succession before Schmidt for Wausau could find the basket, and it was apparent that Janesville would eliminate Wausau from the championship running. The fight was not all out of the Wausau team, however, for they came back with three baskets. Christian, Swanson and C. Engrecht doing the scoring. Before the close of the game Edler added the seventh basket to his already brilliant record but putting the oval into the net from the corner of the floor. The play was one of the prettiest of the afternoon games.

Fans Favor Janesville. A few seconds before the close of the game and while Janesville was "resting on her oars," so to speak, realizing her lead was more than could be overcome, Christian for Wausau, getting Wausau within fifteen points of her victors.

Fans at the afternoon games are picking Janesville as winner of first or second place in the tournament. The Janesville team comprises seasoned players, for the most part, rangy and heavy and the team that beats her will have to play real basketball. The Menomonic team, having been touted as championship material, but unless they have something they did not show in the opening game, they will not be likely to win either first or second place.

Referee Schoeder, who has given splendid satisfaction on two former occasions, was on the job again yesterday and pulled the games off in fine form. Spectators and players alike are loud in praise of the Iowa university official.

JANESVILLE READY TO MEET RACINE IN CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

that Racine gave the Richmond (Ind.) Stars, who badly defeated the local team. Janesville defeated this team in their last game after two defeats by them and they are out tonight to even matters up.

Manager Snyder is planning to arrange a game between the Racine and Kenosha teams at their respective rinks and then play a return game, closing the season. As the leadership of the league is the outcome of tonight's game both teams will battle their hardest. Members of the Moose team are confident that their rivals will not score on them. Langdon, after an absence from the game because of illness, will be back and hold down the position of goal.

Captain Reichert of the Racine team will bring his strongest line-up to compete here as they have been playing a whirlwind game of late, and he wishes to close the season without another defeat. A meeting will be held Sunday morning at the Elks' club rooms to decide on details.

Racine's line-up: Bullotte, 1st rush; Tiede, 2d rush; "Fritz" Reichert, center; Jones, halfback; and Kellogg, guard.

INTERURBAN RAILWAY TO MADISON CERTAIN

G. Peckard, President of Rogers Park Engineering & Construction Co., Gives Assurances.

That the projected interurban railway from Janesville to Madison is certain to be constructed was the statement recently made to a Janesville man by G. Peckard, president of the Rogers Park Engineering and Construction Company, who have a party of surveyors working north from the city. Mr. Peckard is out of the city just at present but is expected to return here next Tuesday. "The surveying party, consisting of two transit men and their rods, have been at work since last Wednesday. They are staying at the Myers Hotel and a carriage from the D. Ryan & Sons' livery takes them out to work every morning and calls for them every evening. After they have reached Indian Ford they will make their headquarters at Edgerton until Stoughton becomes a more favorable base of operations. The survey is said to follow closely that made some years ago by Hayes Bros. and Jackson. It is reported that New York capital is behind the proposed undertaking and that no attempts are being made to interest local capital. Mr. Peckard, who claims Chicago as his residence, is a native of Milwaukee and had charge of the construction of the interurban railway between Watertown and Waukesha Beach. It is understood that the Janesville-Madison line will ultimately be extended to Watertown.

ARE TO ENGAGE THE SERVICES OF EXPERT

Mississippi Golf Club Engage Andrew Gordon, Noted Professional Golfer, for Coming Season.

During the coming golf season, Andrew Gordon, a well known young professional golf player and brother-in-law of David Ogilvie, a noted professional, will be engaged by the Mississippi Golf club. Mr. Gordon was for several years with Anderson and company at St. Andrews, Scotland, and later with the Morriston, N. J. club with his brother-in-law, and during the past winter has been at Augusta, Georgia. He was recommended by Tom McNamara, who will represent America on the All-America golf team in English contests this coming season. The directors have also decided to make suitable arrangements for auto service to the grounds during the summer. The Greens committee named is George E. King, chairman; P. S. Sheldon and Dr. F. E. Farnsworth. Games committee, Edward Baumann, chairman, Miss Lovejoy and J. P. Baker. The House committee has not yet been elected.

Arabian Honey. Arabian honey, which is frequently mentioned by historians as an important export from Aden in early times, is no longer an item in the export trade. Small quantities, however, continue to come from Mokalla, 400 miles east of Aden, and it is also exported from that place to India in small quantities. The decline in the honey and wax industry has been gradual for centuries, and is attributed to a diminution in the rainfall. The honey that comes to market in Aden is packed in gourds and goatskins and sometimes in hollow pumpkins.

America's Vast Corn Fields. The combined area of the corn fields of the United States is nearly equal to the area of France or Germany.

ELK TEAM BANQUETS AT THE GRAND HOTEL

Captain Eaker's Pocket Billiard Players Hosts to the Victors in Recent Tournament.

Thirty-nine players of the pocket billiard teams, captained by Miller and Baker, who took part in the recent tournament at the Elks' club rooms, banqueted last evening at the Grand hotel. Following the supper, Toastmaster Miller called on various members present for short addresses, the honors of the evening falling to H. D. Murdock. It was decided to hold another tournament with plans for an all day clam-bake up the river at the conclusion. Baker and Miller were again elected captains of the two teams. A meeting will be held Sunday morning at the Elks' club rooms to decide on details.

BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENING.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Cloudy tonight and Saturday; rising temperature.

TO THE PUBLIC.

For the general information of the public, a charge is made for insertion of the following items in The Gazette:

Cards of Thanks.

Resolutions.

Obituaries.

Line rates 12c—six words to the line.

There is no charge for death notices and the facts regarding the life of the deceased. Obituary notices sent in days or weeks afterward are charged for at line rates.

There is no charge for one insertion of lodge, church, society or other organization meeting notices. Additional insertions will be charged at line rates.

Letters mailed to the Gazette should bear 2c postage stamps. To stamp is not sufficient and the letter will be held for postage by the post office unless 2c in stamps are attached.

THE INCOME TAX.

Some days ago the following letter was received from a Janesville taxpayer, asking for information on the following subject. The letter was referred immediately to the state tax commission for a ruling, but thus far no answer has been received. Consequently the letter is printed below that the general public may solve for themselves and act accordingly in making out their tax reports. Should an answer be received from the tax commission, the communication will be published, but it is possible it will not be given due attention until after April 1, the date for filing the reports with the local income tax assessor. The letter in question is as follows:

The form submitted for the return of income of individuals for the year 1912 by the Tax Commission differs considerably from the form used last year.

"Last year you were required to list as income received an estimated rental value for the residence occupied by you if owned by you. Under deductions you were allowed, however, to deduct repairs, depreciation, taxes and insurance."

"Under the new form the rental on the income side of the sheet reads, 'Net estimated rental value of residence property occupied by owner, after deducting repairs, taxes, depreciation, insurance and all expenses.' While this clause would satisfactorily cover where the rental value exceeds repairs, depreciation, etc., it does not cover where the repairs, depreciation, etc., exceeds the rental value, nor is provision made in any other part of the form to take care of a condition of this sort. As in a large number of cases in Janesville the actual expense of owning a house exceeds any rent that could possibly be obtained for it, we think it would be of general interest if you would obtain a ruling from the Tax Commission or an explanation of their intentions as to this clause. It is certainly not right to have a Madison property-owner, where rents are high, obtain full deductions from his estimated rent and have a Janesville owner limited as to his deductions."

MONEY NEEDED.

While today's press dispatches lessen the total death loss throughout Ohio and Indiana, it does not diminish the property loss, which Governor Cox, in a telegram to the Gazette, printed on page one of today's issue, says will reach hundreds of millions.

Money is needed and Janesville is planning to do its share. Already generous citizens have subscribed liberally to the fund which is being collected at the Gazette office and which will be forwarded at once to the proper authorities. More is needed and every citizen is urged to add his mite to swell the general total.

Mayor Fathers has issued a general appeal to citizens to help in this work of aiding the unfortunate with money and it is a matter of civic pride that Janesville should send a substantial sum to the flood-stricken districts as speedily as possible.

The Gazette has offered its services to aid in collecting the money and with forward and credit each individual contribution. The money can be left at the business office of the Gazette with the bookkeeper and all checks should be made payable to the Gazette Printing company so that one draft, or more, can be forwarded without any delay.

When you stop to consider that a quarter of a million people are homeless, that the accumulations of years have been swept away in one short hour; that women and children are exposed to the elements, without food, shelter, or means of obtaining them; that immense business industries are paralyzed, thousands of workers thrown out of work, the need for immediate relief is evident.

Let Janesville do its share and donate liberally to the cause of suffering humanity. It is a common cause for which the plea is made, and it should not strike upon deaf ears.

TONIGHT'S MASS MEETING.

Mayor Fathers has called a mass meeting of citizens to gather at Assembly hall this evening at 7:30 to plan to place Janesville's claims to a possible location for the state fair, before the legislative committee obtaining data on a possible site should the fair be moved from Chicago. It is an affair that every citizen should be interested in and one which every public-spirited citizen should make it his personal business to attend. There should be a large attendance and this and other questions of boosting Janesville thoroughly discussed and prompt action taken.

THE HOME COMING.

Steps are already being taken to insure the success of the Home Coming and Fourth of July celebration planned for this year. It should be a big affair and one which will attract the attention of thousands of former residents back to their old home town. The fame of the city of Janesville as an entertained is nationwide and whenever Janesville starts to celebrate—why it is a celebration worth coming miles to witness and enjoy.

FREEPORT'S WAY.

The grocers of Freeport have been seriously annoyed by people who refuse to pay their bills, so they have decided to hire a collector and equip him in a gaudy costume which will attract people for several blocks. When persons owe bills of long standing and refuse to pay, this collector will appear daily at the home of the person owing the debt, until he settles. His appearance at any home is a sign the resident is a dead-beat and his visits are said to have brought results in cases where all other methods had failed.

Gentle spring should be turned up and given a severe drizzling down by old Dame Nature for the way she is behaving.

Now is the time to lend a hand to the flood sufferers in Ohio and Indiana by liberal contributions.

EXPURGE MOVEMENT

On the Wagon.

According to the press dispatches, Emperor William has condemned the drinking of beer and wines and is now a teetotaler.

Spread the news from farm to farm, Sound the tocsin of alarm—

Hide the omnipresent flagon— Kaiser Bill is on the wagon.

'Tis passe to get a jag on, Lushing now has lost its charm.

Clamp the lid upon the stein; Social draught you must decline.

Cut out the schnapps, also bud-weiser,

For the great, discerning kaiser Thinks that it would be much wiser

To drink water from the Rhine.

Will the hardy German chaps Ceases to irrigate their maps.

Just because their ruler rages Over a custom known for ages,

Pastime of Teutonic sages? Certainly they will—perhaps.

According to Uncle Abner.

While there has been 1,000,000 patents issued in this country, most of them, apparently, are for aeroplanes and mouse traps.

A Virginia court has decided that a poker chip is real money. This will also be true of the Saratoga chip.

If potatoes continue to rise in price.

An eastern professor says that up to forty years ago life wasn't worth living. But when a fellow stops to think up to forty years ago there were no phonographs or horseless planiers he is apt to believe that the professor is a liar.

All in all, it seems to me the low-brows have about as much fun in this world as the highbrows and have it a good deal cheaper.

It is getting so almost anybody kin run a typewriter, but there ain't nobody on earth who kin run a stenographer.

A woman always will have the last word if she has to engrave it on her husband's tombstone.

A fellow who doesn't own an automobile nowadays ain't in it, but the fellow who does own one is in it more than is good for him.

It is getting so you can't tell an actor by the fur collar any more.

Even the book agents are wearin' 'em.

There is many a microbe 'twixt the cup and the lip.

When Anse Purdy's wife died he left on order at the tombston works for a monument. He wanted this inscription: "O Lord, She Was Thine."

The fellow at the tombston works started to carve it and when he got through he found the monument was too narrow to get it all on. So he had to deliver the monument to Anse reading as follows: "O Lord, She Was Thine."

Now that false hair is going out of style there will probably be a lot more of them sooty pillars around the house than there was formerly.

Card of Thanks.

Fired at Random wishes to acknowledge the receipt of a fine package of flower seeds from our senator and an equally fine package of vegetable seeds, common or garden variety, from our congressman. We had the squash and radish seeds for breakfast this morning and will have the carrot and watermelon seeds tomorrow morning. As long as the congressman keeps the seeds coming we will be able to keep a few laps ahead of the city poor authorities and the Battle Creek breakfast food factories. Garden seeds come in very handy, especially during depressing periods of frenzied finance. If the congressman really wishes us to plant some of the seeds, will he please send along a nice, fertile corner lot as the one we have is so heavily mortgaged that all we can hope to raise upon it is the interest.

Fame.

You may pile up a fortune or win high official place;

You may win a prize light, may drive first in a race;

You may be an ambassador; or fly an aeroplane;

You may invent a new mouse trap or antidote for pain;

You may hunt up the old south pole and place it on the map;

Or you may save a hundred lives and risk your own, mayhap.

But though you should do all of this, you'll not win fame that's true.

Till some one makes a bum cigar and names it after you.

MILTON JUNCTION

SCHOOL IS WINNER

Takes Inter-School Declamatory and Oratorical Contests at Milton.

(Special to the Gazette.)

Milton, Wis., March 28.—The third annual declamatory and oratorical contests between Milton and Milton Junction were held last night in the Milton College auditorium. Four speakers from the high school at Milton Junction contested for honors with four from Milton. As each school has won the league banner once the third annual contest was one full of interest and the contestants were drilled to a high degree of efficiency. The speakers all did well, but the judges, the Rev. Hazen of Janesville, Prof. Small of Edgerton and Miss Rosenberg of Beloit awarded the places as follows:

Declamations—

The Littlest Rebel..... Marie Vickerman

The Sling-shot..... Alice Paul

A Little Mother Hen..... Myrtle Fox

The Circus..... Beulah Greenman

Music..... Selected

Orchestra.

Orations—

The New South..... Paul Randolph

A Plea for Cuba..... Paul Fisher

Patrick Henry's Address to Virginia

Burgesses..... Leo Langphere

Toussaint L'Overture..... John Conkey

Music..... Selected

Orchestra.

Decision of judges.

Advice to Husbands.

When your wife makes a hat for herself with a total expenditure of 30 cents, don't fail to admire it, no matter what it looks like, don't admire it so strongly that she will grow suspicious, but admire it judiciously. Don't tell her it is the most beautiful creation you have ever seen, but one of the most beautiful.

When your wife's relatives come to spend a week or two with you, try to make things pleasant for them. Let the furnace go out and forget to order the meat and groceries.

Whistle merrily when you come up the front steps late at night and make all the noise you can getting into the house. That will show her that you have no reason to conceal anything and that your conscience is perfectly clear whether it is or not.

For Rusted Saws.

When the saw becomes rusted it may be removed with emery dust mixed with sweet oil. Apply this with a large corncob.

Dr. PRICE'S

CREAM

BAKING POWDER

Perfectly pure, unquestionably wholesome. A pure food factor ante-dating all pure food laws. Indispensable for raising finest cake, biscuit and pastry.

No Alum. No Lime Phosphates

Be on guard against alum in your food. Prof. Johnson of Yale College says he "regards the introduction of alum into baking powders as most dangerous to health."

Read the label. Buy only where Cream of Tartar is named.

In the girl's contest first place was won by Miss Marie Vickerman of Milton and second by Miss Beulah Greenman of Milton Junction; and Paul Fisher of John Conkey of Milton Junction received first and second places in the boys' contest, the banner going to Milton Junction. The Milton high school orchestra furnished an excellent selection of musical numbers during the program.

Why Have Your Nervous System Wrecked and Tortured in The Dental Chair?

Pain destroys your very life. It's very different if I do your Dendistry.

A Chicago Surgeon recently came in and requested that these Painless claims be tested on two of his teeth which were so fearfully sensitive that he didn't propose to have them touched by the ordinary Dentist.

After the test, he complimented me on the absolute painlessness of the whole proceedings.

It will be the same with you.

TONIGHT'S MEETING AT THE CITY HALL AN IMPORTANT ONE

Mayor Fathers' Call for General Mass Meeting Should Bring Out Large Attendance.

Mayor James Fathers' call for a mass meeting of citizens for this evening at seven-thirty at the Assembly room in the city hall should bring out a large attendance. The meeting is called with a view of formulating plans to present Janesville's claims to the legislative committee which will report on a possible site for the Wisconsin State Fair if it is found desirable to remove it from Milwaukee.

The Mayor's call is as follows: Janesville, March 23, 1913. To the Citizens of Janesville: In view of the fact that the state legislature is considering the removal of the state fair from Milwaukee to some other location in the state and has named a special committee to investigate possible sites and make a report within thirty days, I feel that Janesville should present its claims to such a location and call a mass meeting of citizens interested in the plan for Friday evening, March 28th, at seven-thirty in the assembly room of the City Hall, at which time plans for an organization to present Janesville's claims may be effected.

JAMES A. FATHERS, Mayor of the City of Janesville.

MAIDEN ROCK MEN HEIRS OF GREAT ENGLISH FORTUNE

ROAD COMMISSIONER URGES IMPORTANCE OF USING LOG DRAG

Has Instructed Town Chairmen to Work County Highways as Soon
As Possible and Makes Further Appeal.

County Highway Commissioner Chas. E. Moore in a statement to the Gazette today stated that he wished to call the attention of the farmers of Rock county to the importance and need of using the road drag on the highways during the spring. In regard to the condition of the roads at this time Mr. Moore said:

"There never was a time when all roads were cut up more than they are now, and there never was a time when the road or split-log drag could be of greater service, or better demonstrate what it can do. Consequently I have sent out notices to the township chairmen and wish to make an appeal to farmers generally, that they may spare a little time or induce others to take time to drag the roads thoroughly, before the work begins in the fields."

A little time spent going up and down the highways this spring with a team and drag just at the time that the roads begin to settle, will accomplish more in dressing down and re-crowding than might be accomplished with a grader and several teams at a later time when the road bed is dry and hard. Besides this about the only time that the farmers has any time to spare for road work, and a good dragging for both the county highways and others now included in the system, will do wonders toward putting them into condition for the whole season."

Mr. Moore stated that it was his desire that this work should be done in every community as soon as possible and on all roads. In regard to the county highways the commissioner will see that proper compensation is made for such services on the presentation of the bills, and town chairmen and road overseers are expected to look out for all highways not in the county system.

"The purpose of the good road movement," said Mr. Moore, "is not merely the building of a few pieces of good permanent road, but to make all highways as good as the circumstances will permit. To this end I wish to appeal to public spirit and self interest of all to co-operate in this undertaking confident as I am that the use of the road drags in this time of special need will bring them in such favor that there will be no hesitation as to their future use. An earth road well dragged and in condition is the finest road to travel upon and a county road is not a perpetual autonomous concern. It must be maintained and improved. The use of the drag can do much along this line. Remember in the end the taxpayer pays the penalty for all neglect."

Mr. Moore is already busy with plans for the construction work during the coming season. He intends to organize several crews to work with the three road rollers which the county now owns and to extend the sphere of usefulness of these important machines as much as possible. Rock county is one of the three or four counties in the state that builds its roads under the day labor under direction of an overseer. Mr. Moore points out that conditions are peculiar in this locality and that road contractors can employ labor cheaper than the county.

SALESMANSHIP CLASS BANQUETS NEYSTROM

Shows Appreciation of Services of Instructor—Program Follows Dinner at Myers Hotel.

As a means of expressing their appreciation of the services of their instructor, Paul H. Neystrom, the night school class in salesmanship has tonight given a banquet in his honor at the Myers hotel. Over fifty were seated at the tables when a five-course dinner was served at eight o'clock, and the meal was followed by a brief program. Principal H. C. Buell acted as toastmaster and gave the opening address. The musical selections were a vocal number by Messrs. W. Airis, H. Clithero, and Mr. Fox, and vocal solos by Robert Clithero and John Brennan. Miss Helen Vlyman gave an amusing sketch of the different kinds of weather. Prof. Neystrom then called upon and thanked the members of the class for the honor shown him and their cooperation. W. E. Buckley also gave a brief talk. Those who had charge of the banquet were Phil Doherty, Percy Witzien, and Walter Airis.

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN ENDS INDIGESTION

Time It! No Sick, Sour, Gassy
Stomach, Heartburn or Dyspepsia in Five Minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—you want something that is sure, that you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; it's harmless; it's certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eruptions of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

WEATHER... that was in the East yesterday has passed off into the Atlantic. It was attended by gales and heavy rains on the New England coast yesterday.

The area of high barometer that was in the lower Mississippi valley at seven it was an inch and a half higher. There is no satisfactory explanation of the rise and it was at first reported that ice from Lake Keshkoonong had jammed against the railroad bridge below Newville but on investigation the report was found to be untrue. The water rose at Indian Ford about the same as it registered here.

No ice came down the river this morning, indicating that the lake ice is all out. Ice, which had formed on the race, melted today and no more danger or trouble is anticipated at the electric plants.

ROCK RIVER STILL ABOVE NORMAL MARK

Water Still Above Thirty-Three Inches
Which Was the Mark Last Night—River Free From Ice.

Rock river, contrary to expectations, is not receding as fast as the weather would indicate. Last night at seven o'clock the water registered at thirty-three inches while this morning at seven it was an inch and a half higher. There is no satisfactory explanation of the rise and it was at first reported that ice from Lake Keshkoonong had jammed against the railroad bridge below Newville but on investigation the report was found to be untrue. The water rose at Indian Ford about the same as it registered here.

Many of the finest buildings in Dayton, Ohio, including the new Y. M. C. building, have been destroyed either by flood or fire. Practically the entire city is under water and there has been no connection with the city for days. The exact number of dead will not be known for some time, but the list doubtless reaches into the hundreds.

In the meantime, assistance is coming from every direction, and especially from the federal government, which has rushed 50,000 tents and 100,000 rations to the flooded districts.

Dayton is a city of about 125,000 population, and is situated about sixty miles north of Cincinnati.

FAVORS A REVISION OF STATE CONSTITUTION

Assemblyman Rosa Offers Resolution Calling for Vote on Proposition at 1914 Election.

Madison, Wis., March 28.—A constitutional convention to revise the state constitution is favored by the assembly judiciary committee. It has unanimously reported the joint resolution offered by Assemblyman Rosa of Rock county to submit the question of calling a convention to the voters at the November election in 1914. He says that the numerous amendments in favor of revising the basic law of the state.

"During the session of the legislature for 1909, twenty-eight amendments to the constitution were proposed," said Judge Rosa today. "Fifty-three were proposed during the 1911 session and seventeen have already been proposed at this session."

Judge Rosa points out that seven amendments to the constitution were approved by voters in 1909, and that a number were adopted at the recent general election. In order to make the constitution a concise fundamental instrument a commission should be called. The judiciary committee was unanimous in recommending the resolution for passage.

That committee has also recommended the Nye joint resolution which provides that the state may loan money to persons wishing to purchase farms. The proposed change in the constitution which he recommends provides that the state may issue bonds to obtain funds to promote the general welfare of its citizens by making loans to individuals in the security of agricultural land within the state for their own use and occupancy for farm purposes.

The Nye resolution is a part of the plan outlined by the public affairs board for the development of northern Wisconsin. It is claimed it secures financial assistance could be given settlers that the northern section of the state would be settled within a few years. The Nye resolution must be adopted by the next session of the legislature before it can be submitted to the people.

"CANNED FOOD WEEK" SALES PROMOTION PLAN

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Chicago, Ill., March 28.—What is claimed by its promoters to be the greatest commercial selling campaign ever organized is now in progress and will culminate during the coming week, which has been designated by manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers and retailers as "Canned Food Week." The enterprise is led by a co-operation of five large national organizations. These are the National Wholesale Grocers' Association, the National Association of Retail Grocers, the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association, the National Canners' Association and the National Canned Goods Brokers' Association. Campaign headquarters are located in this city, where it was reported today that practically every retail grocery store in the United States will be a display room for canned goods next week.

D. W. WATT RECEIVES AN APPEAL FOR AID

Fear is Expressed for William Hart, Former Janesville Resident at Peru, Ind.

David W. Watt received the following letter from Warren Patrick of Chicago, a former Janesville resident, telling him of the disaster that had overtaken numerous circus men at Peru, Ind., and fear that William Hart, a former Janesville resident, who conducts a hotel, had lost everything. The letter is as follows:

Mr. D. W. Watt, Janesville, Wis.

Dear Mr. Watt:

It is feared that the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus has been wiped out by the flood in Peru and that there are a number of showmen in distress. In the absence of telegraphic or other communication, the Showmen's League of America at its meeting last night delegated Arthur Davis to go to Peru to investigate conditions and ascertain what the Showmen's League of America could do to relieve distress. Mr. Davis left on the 3:00 o'clock train this morning for South Bend to make his way to Peru as best he could.

If it is found necessary, the Showmen's League of America will give a big benefit in Chicago for the relief of showmen affected by the flood. Money is of no value in Peru for all commercial avenues are closed. What the showmen need is food and clothing, and we will see to it that it is supplied if it is at all possible.

I am afraid that our friend Bill Hart's Hotel has been put out of business by the flood. The Lord only knows what has happened in Peru. Even Uncle Ben himself may be dead. It would appear certain that the entire Hagenbeck-Wallace menagerie has been destroyed in the flood. Certainly a horrible condition of affairs, and let us hope that we may be able to do something to help the folks in need.

Yours very truly,

WARREN PATRICK, Secretary.

Today's Reports.

The following dispatch received this afternoon tells of the conditions at Peru:

Peru, Ind., March 28.—As Peru emerged from the flood today it became apparent that the death list will not run over 25. Many cling to their statements that 50 is a nearer estimate of the fatalities, but a careful survey of the situation leads to the belief that the lower number is nearer correct.

The indirect death list as a result of the flood, however, as scores of aged men and women, who for hours were forced to undergo terrible exposures and later to endure horrible unsanitary conditions, are certain to die. Four persons died last night in the court house as a result of exposure. Conditions in South Peru are still desperate. Ten feet of water is still over that section.

BANKER OUT OF PRISON AFTER FOUR YEAR TERM

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Pittsburgh, Pa., March 28.—William Montgomery, former banker and prominent clubman of Pittsburgh, was released today from the Western penitentiary, where he had served about four and one-half years of a fifteen-year sentence imposed upon him for misappropriating the funds of the Allegheny National Bank of this city, of which he was cashier. The bank failed in 1908 with a shortage of a million dollars. All losses have been repaid, and President Taft, as one of his last official acts commuted Montgomery's fifteen-year sentence on the ground that it was out of proportion to that imposed in similar cases.

MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN IN TRI-STATE DEBATE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Seattle, Wash., March 28.—Much interest is manifested in student circles in the tri-state annual debate, in which teams representing the University of Washington, University of Oregon and Leland Stanford University engage tonight. Each university is represented by two teams, one debating at home and the other abroad. This year's subject is "Resolved, That the immigration to the United States of all unskilled labor of the Heilic, Slavonic and Italian races of eastern Europe should be prohibited."

RESCUE AND RELIEF WORK IS NOW BEGUN IN REAL EARNEST

the effects of the disaster. We are going to show it that we are capable of coping with the situation.

Today began with great promise. A brilliant sun tempered the keenness of the frosty air. The flood subsided perceptibly. Flood victims, who had been penned in the down town section of the city were able unaided to make their way to the suburbs by the thousands.

Militia on Guard.
On Main street in the heart of Dayton it was possible to pick a dry path over the pavement. Co-operating with the citizens' committee appointed by President Smith, the militia began early to make arrangements for handling the situation in the down town districts.

A survey of this territory, officials said, would lead to the stationing of a sufficient patrol to have everyone except those engaged in work of rescue, militia men and deputies were given instructions to shoot offenders against the pre-arranged plan of relief work.

"Shoot at the legs first, then shoot to kill," was the way in which the soldiers were instructed to act.

RISE OF FOX RIVER IS CAUSE FOR APPREHENSION

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Neenah, Wis., March 28.—Much apprehension is being felt here over the steady rise of the Fox river. The river at the present time is higher than at any other time in 20 years. As it is still cold enough to keep the frost in the ground and freeze all holes over night there need be no anxiety.

Potomack Missing: Joseph Potomack, proprietor of the Paris Ladies' tailoring establishment, is reported missing and his whereabouts unknown. A number of women who had placed orders with him for spring garments, as well as numerous creditors, are anxious over his alleged disappearance.

YOUR FRECKLES

Need Attention in February and March or Face May Stay Covered

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish it to look well the rest of the year. The February and March winds have a strong tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all summer unless removed. Now is the time to use othine—double strength.

This prescription for the removal of freckles is the discovery of an eminent skin specialist, and is so uniformly successful that it is sold by Badger Drug Co. under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of othine—double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.

Husband and Wife Both Saved From Suffering

I wish to tell you the good results myself and husband received from Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. About eleven years ago I had a severe attack of La Grippe and was confined to my bed about eight weeks under the doctor's care. He pronounced my case kidney trouble and rheumatism and not receiving the results from the doctor's treatment I should have received, I decided to try Swamp-Root. After taking several bottles of Swamp-Root I was able to get up and attend to my work. About a year later my husband was affected with a severe attack of kidney trouble and doctored for some time with the doctors and received no benefit. Knowing of the good I had received, he decided to try Swamp-Root. His condition was such that he was confined to his bed and words cannot tell how he suffered, but after taking Swamp-Root he was relieved so he could go on with his work without pain. I wish to heartily recommend Swamp-Root to all persons afflicted with kidney and bladder troubles and you may publish this letter if you wish.

Yours truly,
MRS. A. E. BRIGGS,
Eldred, Pa.

Sworn and subscribed to before me, this 25th day of May, 1912.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

LIVING BY ONE'S REPUTATION.
DID IT ever occur to you that a man's past reputation often has a great influence on his present acts?
 It seems to me that it does.

I believe that most of us are far more influenced than we realize by what we think other people think about us.

For instance, a man who has naturally good manners and is rather thoughtful for his wife's comfort and happiness, acquires the reputation among his friends of being a model husband. He may not hear it expressed in just these terms, but he knows in a general way, just as we all know some things without ever having been told, that he is held up to other husbands as a standard of manners and kindness.

Now of course there are times when this man is tempted to be selfish and careless just like other men, but the moral force of his reputation won't let him be. It holds him up to his duty like an iron hand. Other men may sit round in their shirt sleeves all evening, or fail to lend a hand with the dishes, or gradually grow slack about such little courtesies as seating the wife at the table, without causing comment; other men may forget to bring a valentine or anniversary gift with impunity; but he may not. HE is the model husband.

The above is a partially hypothetical instance, but I know plenty of real ones. Indeed, just the other day, a young woman frankly confided to me that she had a terrible time living up to her reputation for generosity. "I don't know how I ever got such a reputation," she said, "for I know I'm not generous by nature, but somehow I did, and now I haven't the courage not to live up to it. People are always taking my generosity for granted, so I try not to disappoint them but it's really up-hill work."

In these two cases the influence of the past reputation was good. Sometimes it is bad. Sometimes a man gets so saturated with the knowledge that people think he is a rake, or a spendthrift, or a good-for-nothing, that he ceases to expect anything good of himself, and lives down to his reputation as a matter of course.

Our reputation is the part we each assign ourselves in the eternal tragedy-comedy of daily life. We have selected it, and we must either play it or else startle the audience and make ourselves conspicuous by demanding a new part.

A few of us seem to like to do that.

egg well beaten adds both to food value and taste. Stir this in well when ready to serve.

Boiled Finnan Haddie.
 Place fish in boiling water and simmer with a slice of lemon and a small bay leaf for fifteen minutes. Remove the skin and place in a hot dish, pour over a rich cream sauce with chopped parsley or dill sauce.

Recipes For Finnan Haddie.
 Most fish dishes are very acceptable in the spring, but particularly the salt fish. It is appetizing, and many people have a natural craving for salty food during the early spring months. The first preparation is to return to the fish the moisture which has been lost in the drying or curing. Soaking fish side down all night in just enough milk or water to be taken into it is good. Then boil as if fresh or parboil in milk or water for five minutes and then broil.

Baked Finnan Haddie.
 Parboil the fish, that is, allow the water over the fish to come slowly to a boil. Turn off the water and remove the skin. Place the fish in a greased baking dish and cook slowly twenty minutes, basting occasionally with melted butter or cream. Remove to a hot platter, squeeze over it a little lemon juice and shake over a good dash of paprika and serve.

Creamed Finnan Haddie.
 Materials—Haddie, 1 cup; hot milk, 1 1/2 cups; 2 teaspoons; Flour, 2 teaspoons; paprika.

Utensils—Double boiler, measuring cup, tablespoon, sauce pan.
 Put the flour, dry, into the sauce pan over the fire and stir continually until a rich even brown. Add the butter and rub smooth. Gradually add the hot milk, stirring all the time until it thickens. Turn all back into the double boiler, where the milk was heated, and add the haddie, which has been cut in small pieces. Cover and cook five or ten minutes. A yolk of

WAYS OF SERVING THE OYSTER.

Before the oyster is out of market, let us try a few new ways of serving it:

Oysters a la Gordon.—Bring a cup of cream to the boiling point, add a third of a cup of bread crumbs, a dash of paprika, a pinch of salt, a grating of nutmeg, a tablespoonful of butter and a cup of chopped oysters. Cook until the oysters are well cooked through.

Oysters a la Long Branch.—Drain a pint of oysters. Cook a cupful of finely cut celery in the oyster liquor until transparent, adding water if needed. When the celery is cooked, add a tablespoonful of butter, the juice of half a lemon, a grating of the peel and three tablespoonfuls of orange or any fruit juice. Bring to the boiling point, cook the oysters until the edges curl, and serve on toast.

French Way of Cooking Oysters.—Make a sauce of a tablespoonful of butter, two of flour and a cup of tomato juice. Add a tablespoonful of chopped onion, two tablespoonfuls of onion or any fruit juice. Bring to the boil and cook until the oysters curl.

Waldorf Oysters.—Put three tablespoonfuls of olive oil in a saucepan, and a small onion sliced, a shredded green pepper, fry slowly until done, then add a pint of oysters, or more, a dash of salt, red pepper and two tablespoonfuls of currant jelly. Cook five minutes, then add a tablespoonful of tomato catsup. Boil up and serve piping hot.

Good Reasoning.
 A weather-beaten woman, dressed in new and stylish clothing, was marching up the street one Sunday morning, when down came a sudden shower, relates Harper's Bazar. The woman had no umbrella, but quick as a flash she caught up her dress skirt and threw it over her head.

"You'll get your ankles all wet, Maria," said her husband, who was coming along in the rear.

"Oh, never mind the ankles," called out the woman as she hurried along. "I've had them the last six years and I only got the hat yesterday."

CHARMING DINNER OR EVENING GOWN

The graceful gown shown here is for dinner or evening wear. It is of gentian blue charmeuse.

The upper part of the bodice forms sleeves and is of chiffon to match the satin. The draped circle forms a point at the front and back and terminates in a sash end and loop at the left. It is of black velvet.

A square at the front of the waist is filled with ecru lace, showing beneath the cut-out sections at the front of the skirt. This lace foundation falls in a soft box plait at the feet.

The skirt is cut with a pointed train.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a motherless sixteen-year-old girl. I go to school and keep house for father and I am the only female in the house with two brothers. The elder one is very cruel and insults me before my younger brother, while father is very mean to me. He will not give me money to get decent clothes, although he is quite wealthy. What shall I do—go away or try to stand it in this torturing place? I would like to go to some school and be a nurse. Is that a good idea? Please give me address of some hospitals where I could go without paying any money for admission.

TROUBLED BLUE EYES.
 You are rather up against it, my dear. Have you any women relatives to whom you might go for help? Your father but control of you unless he actually abuses you or if he cannot provide a safe home for you. In that case you can go to the probate judge in your district, and he will help you.

It would be a splendid profession to be a nurse, but it costs money to take the course and I know of no hospitals that take students free.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—We are two girls chums. We are both going with a fellow, but are both in love with another and the same fellow. What would you advise us to do? (2)—We are both sixteen. Are we old enough to go with the boys? (3)—We are very fond of dancing. Should we go to public dances?

IRISH GIRLS.
 Can't you girls have boy friends without being "mushy"? You really are not in love with anybody, you know. It's all "puppy love" with you girls as well as with the boys, at your age. Be good friends with the boys, my dears, and wait for love until you are old enough to know what it is, and then fall in love with a real man—one for each of you. (2)—This is answered in No. 1. (3)—If you are well chaperoned and will behave properly, there may be no harm; but I cannot quite approve of public dances. They have done so much harm to our young folks.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Garden Peas.
 To Stake Peas—Plant peas in rows, drive stout stakes about every six feet or so apart, then stretch poultry netting and fasten to stakes. Two rows of 12-inch netting are best; one row fastened about six inches from ground and the other row six inches above that one. It will be easier to pick them than if wide netting is used. For the dwarf one row would do.

Chives.
 If you are not growing any chives in your garden, get a few roots of them at the market. If you have no garden plant them in a box. It is up the first thing in spring. Mine is now two inches high and it needs almost no care.

Children like to pick it to eat with butter and bread.

For sandwiches, cut chives fine with scissors. Put through the food grinder, some boiled meat, mix with the chives and spread between buttered bread.

Boiled meat and chives put through the food grinder: cold boiled meat, add chives, little salt and pepper; put between buttered bread.

Cottage cheese and chives: Mix the cottage cheese with some chives, add a little salt, spread between buttered bread.

When making brown gravy add some chives.

Some like it in panades. It is very healthy. Put some also in potato salad.

It has a very mild onion flavor and is a favorite with many Germans and Swiss.

The Table.

Nut Bread.—One egg, beaten, one cup white sugar, 1 1/2 cups sweet milk, four cups sifted flour into which has been mixed four teaspoons of baking powder, 1 1/3 cups chopped nut meats (not too fine). Bake rather slowly. Makes one large loaf.

Bean Soup.—Soak one pint navy beans over night. In the morning parboil with a pinch of soda, then drain. Boil in two quarts of fresh water over slow fire for three hours. Half hour before lunch add six link pork sausages, salt and pepper to taste. (We like the flavor of the sausage better than salt pork. My boy never liked the flavor of salt properly, there may be no harm; but I cannot quite approve of public dances. They have done so much harm to our young folks.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 23 years old. Have been keeping house for father for several years. Started when quite young. I have a chance to marry. This young man for three years and we think a great deal of each other. If I go I will leave a sister 14 years old to keep house. Which would be the proper thing for me to do? We intend to marry some day, but are hanging back on account of my sister being so young to take up housework. Please advise me.

SIS.
 Get married. Your father can hire a housekeeper until your sister is old enough to take charge. It is his duty to do that.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—I am a young city girl in love with a rancher. Do you suppose if I marry him I could adopt his way of going to bowery dances, riding bronchos and long-horned steers? (2)—Is it proper for a young man to hold a lady's hand in a theater? (3)—Is it proper for a young man to hold a young lady's hand in a theater? (4)—Is it proper for a young man to give a lady a "French" kiss?

YETIVE & BEVERLY.
 (1)—Ranchers don't expect their womenfolk to do such things. They think women ought to stay home and do the cooking and housework and washing and ironing and baby-tending. (2)—It isn't conventional. (3)—No. (4)—That means a kiss on either cheek. No—I can't say it is proper, unless he happens to be engaged to marry her.

But he likes the pork sausage with ketchup.) We consider this a nice luncheon dish.

CHARMING COSTUME FOR STREET WEAR

One of the smartest modes for a street costume for early spring wear is shown in this design by Green of Paris. The material is blue charmeuse with green collar and lapels. Especially are to be noted the sash, the very short jacket and the draped skirt.

WHY NOT?

KC is pure. KC is healthful. It really does make lighter, nicer biscuits, cakes and pastry than the old fashioned single acting baking powders.

And you pay only a fair price for it. No baking powder should sell for more.

Diamonds fiery and sparkling as a forest fire glitter from Mrs. Stocker's diamond-studded gold satin pumps, diamond-embroidered imported gold-fish net stockings, diamond ring decked hands, to the $35,000 collar and earrings and flashing diamond hair ornament.

Paternal Wisdom.
 "Son, are you really determined to get married?"
 "Yes, father."

"And you feel that you can support a wife?"

"Oh, yes."

"Well, just remember that the dictionary says 'to support' also means 'to endure.'"

LYMAN HOWE PROGRAM WAS UP TO STANDARD

Delighted Large Audiences at Myers Theatre Last Night and Yesterday Afternoon.

That fidelity to a high standard of entertainment which the public has come to expect in the Lyman Howe motion pictures was again manifested in the program given yesterday afternoon and evening, and on the previous night. There was not a dull moment from start to finish, for the Howe artists can amuse with their original and fantastic introductions almost as well as with the actual numbers themselves. A neatly balanced characterizes this as it has his former programs, and by the time the end is reached the spectator has run almost the entire gamut of his emotions, except that of grief and fear. Perhaps even this statement would bear qualification for there were few whose nerves were not drawn taut by viewing the hazardous positions of men constructing a New York skyscraper, or watching the thrilling escapes from caged lions.

But it is in the procuring and producing of travel pictures that Lyman Howe shows his regular genius. The beautiful gardens and fountains of Granada, the summer home of the Spanish kings; the gorges, waterfalls and seething mountain streams at the approaches to the Simplon tunnel, all shown in their natural colors, evoke in their beholders the emotions that only natural grandeur can call forth, and even those who had seen the Niagara gorge at first hand caught the thrill of boiling rapids and whirlpools as conveyed by the camera. The views of Milan cathedral were deeply impressive, showing the spiritual aspiration and adoration that found expression in architecture and the art of the sculptor, a symphony in stone. Among the other pictures shown, all of them gems of their kind, were the military maneuvers at Culver military academy, the French artillery drills, song birds at home, and the trapping of monkeys. The Howe comedies are always provocative of hearty laughter, and an antidote to the blues. Any mention of the Howe program would be incomplete without a mention of the realistic effects produced by noise-making devices and the music background that so adequately gives the spirit of each series of pictures.

JUDA

Juda, March 27.—The Easter program that was to be given at the Baptist church last Sunday evening was postponed on account of the storm. The program will be given the coming Sunday night, March 30.

Mrs. Ernest Grenzow had business in Monroe Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Benedict of Milwaukee spent part of last week here with her son, George Benedict and family. She returned home Saturday.

Misses Ora Alexander and Mabel Matzke spent Monday and Tuesday in Monroe with friends.

Mrs. M. Patton returned home Saturday after spending the winter with relatives and friends at Madison.

Frank Blackford and family of Janesville spent Easter with relatives. Mesdames John Kreyder, Robert Daininger, C. H. Hall and daughter, Katie, were Brodhead shoppers Saturday.

The R. N. A. will meet with Mrs. George Benedict Friday evening, March 28. The hostess extends an invitation to all of the members.

Miss Sarah Moyer was in Monroe Saturday and Sunday to see her sister, Miss Fannie Moyer.

Joe H. Denick of Shullsburg was a Juda visitor from Saturday until Tuesday.

Mrs. H. B. Gifford was a Monroe caller Saturday.

Charles Johnson of Chicago spent Easter with W. G. McDowell and family.

Miss Tess Berryman of Monroe visited with her sister, Mrs. Parker Newman, yesterday.

Ernest Grenzow, after a week's illness, and only being confined to his bed five days, passed away Wednesday morning at four o'clock. The funeral will be held Saturday at 12:00 o'clock at the house and 1:00 o'clock at the M. E. church. Interment at Mt. Vernon cemetery. Obituary will be published later.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

THE FRESHET.

(By Howard L. Rann.)

THE freshet is an annual increase in the supply of water and wet feet which comes in the spring of the year just in time to overflow several thousand pairs of tan oxfords. It is caused by a number of clouds getting together in one spot and leaking profusely in the general direction of the earth.

The first thing a freshet does when it strikes the ground is to settle in some creek which cannot be used for any other purpose, blow out a few bridges and then wind up in somebody's cellar. If it is headed off that it cannot get into the cellar, it will back up into the main streets and force pedestrians who do not wear hip boots to detour at least four blocks in order to get home. An aggressive freshet can stimulate the sale of rubber even in a shoe store which doesn't believe in advertising.

The favorite occupation of the spring freshet is to climb under a wooden railroad bridge and carry it into the next township before setting it down. This compels the railroad company to put in another wooden bridge, which lasts until the following spring. It also causes the passengers to adorn the right of way with assorted expletives, as they walk four miles to the last station and roost in the Grand Central hotel.

When they start back in the morning on the return trip, they will probably run into another freshet, which made away with all of the rolling stock except a one-armed flagman and a hand car. Sometimes the freshet steals up at night and forces people to climb onto a third story window in evening dress and wander around in a row boat. The Ohio river produces several of these freshets a year and deposits white-robed tourists, chicken coops and feather beds as far south as the Gulf stream, as far south as the Gulf stream, as far south as the Gulf stream.

People who live along the Ohio river never know when a freshet will seize them around the waist and plunge them into the icy depths alongside of a yearling calf or a ball-bearing sewing machine.

CENTER

Center, March 28.—On Sunday, March 23 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sornow occurred the marriage of their youngest daughter, Miss Katie to Wm. Natz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Natz. The ceremony was witnessed by only the near relatives of the contracting parties. They have the best wishes of their friends.

Yesterday another of Center's young men was joined in the holy bonds of matrimony. August Nightengale, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nightengale, was married to Miss Mary Kooplen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kooplen, at the home of the bride in the town of Plymouth. They have the best wishes of their friends for future happiness. They will reside in the rooms over the creamery on the groom's father's farm.

Mrs. Herman Natz still remains in a serious condition. The nurse, who was attending her was obliged to go home on account of being ill.

The town board met at the home of the clerk, C. H. Whitmore Tuesday.

It has been definitely decided that there will be a cheese factory operation here this season.

Mail carrier Hungerford reported Wednesday that in his experience he had never carried the mail over the roads when they were so rough.

Herman Natz Sr., was a Madison visitor Tuesday.

BROOKLYN

Brooklyn, March 27.—The following from here will be confirmed at the Danish Lutheran church at Oregon next Sunday: Bernie Christiansen, Mabel Mortensen, Carl Karmgard, Mabel Knudsen and Gertrude Rasmussen.

F. H. Anderson and son, Irving, were Evansville visitors Monday.

J. N. Ames of Oregon is visiting at the home of his son, E. M. Ames.

Rev. E. D. Upson and son, Porter, spent Monday and Tuesday in Chicago.

M. V. Adamsen of Belleville was in town on business the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wheelock of Batavia Ill., spent the first of the week with friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. C. R. Ray and children were Oregon visitors Tuesday.

E. C. Smith of Madison spent Sunday at the Eugene Smith home.

Miss Fayetta Beers of Sun Prairie has been a guest at the E. Every home.

Mrs. George Paylor, formerly of Brodhead, spent a few days last week with friends in town.

AFTON

Afton, March 27.—The most pleasant social event, in which the ladies of Afton and vicinity have participated in for some time, was the gathering Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. Josephine Antisdel, 349 Bluff street. It was a well planned and successfully carried out surprise upon Mrs. Antisdel. Each of the ladies contributed to the dinner which was served at noon. The bountiful supply of good things testified to the ability of the Afton ladies in that line. A social afternoon was spent, and all departed with an urgent invitation from the hostess to come again. Those present were: Misses James C. E. Uehling, Josephine Antisdel, Albert Stark, David Johnston, Charles Griffin, Will Kiltner, Fred Kethelhorn, George Robb, John Brinkman, Benjamin Harding, George Antisdel, J. Eddy, Roy Antisdel, Arthur Woodstock, David Throne and the Misses Ella Uehling, Faye and Olive Antisdel.

SHOPIERE

Shopiere, March 28.—The Easter concert at the Congregational church Sunday morning was well attended and a good program given by the Sunday school.

Owing to the storm Sunday evening the Easter concert at the M. E. church was postponed until Sunday evening, March 30th.

The R. N. A. initiated ten members at their meeting the 26th, after which refreshments were served.

One of the most pleasant dancing parties of the season was given at Haggart's hall Tuesday by the M. P. C. Club. The excellent music was furnished by Hansen and Held's orchestra of Beloit. There were 47 numbers sold. All report a very pleasant time.

M. J. Weirick is quite ill at present. Wallace Uehling has tonsillitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bostwick announce the arrival of a little daughter.

Miss Beryl Truesdell of Beloit, spent a few days at M. J. Weirick's and attended the party.

Mrs. F. Culver has been quite poorly.

Mrs. Clarence Van Gilder and two children of Racine, spent a few days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Culver.

Miss Ida Sweet is serving at Emerald Grove.

Mrs. S. Cumings of La Prairie visited.

BACKACHE A WARNING ALL SHOULD HEED

It is One of the First Signs of Kidney Troubles, if Neglected, Serious Diseases Follow.

No one can be well and healthy unless the kidneys work properly and keep the blood pure. When they become clogged up and inactive, nature has a way of warning you.

Backache is one of the first symptoms. You may also be troubled with disagreeable, annoying bladder disorders; have attacks of lumbago or rheumatism; become nervous, tired, and feel all worn out; puff swellings show under the eyes or in the feet and ankles; and many other symptoms are noticed. If they are neglected, dropsy, diabetes, or Bright's disease, which so often prove fatal, may result.

It is not only dangerous, but needless for you to suffer and endure the tortures of these troubles, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly and surely ends all such misery.

There is no more effective remedy known for the prompt cure of all such troubles than this new, scientific preparation, because it removes the cause. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the clogged up pores; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and waste matter that lodge in the joints and muscles and cause those terrible rheumatic pains, and makes the kidneys filter and sift the poison out of the blood and drive it from the system.

You will find Croxone different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache, relieve rheumatic pains, or overcome urinary disorders.

ited on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Atkinson.
Miss Elsie Brand visited Nellie Uehling Wednesday and Thursday.
J. Shimeall is improving.

The Satisfaction of Being Well Dressed

TO be well dressed is largely a matter of taste. It is not so much a matter of money. What counts is what you buy, not what you pay for it. Every woman knows this.

BUT to exercise taste, you must have room for choice among tasteful things; you must have opportunity to express your individuality.

AND that is exactly what we give our customers, whatever amount they have to spend.

THE collection of coats, suits, dresses and waists in readiness here for the Spring demand is large—but better than that, it is choice. It holds no experiments and no freaks.

A Communion Sermon

By REV. WILLIAM EVANS, D. D.,
Director of Bible Courses of the Moody
Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—What mean ye by this service?
Exodus 12:26

The chapter in which this text is found sets forth the detailed arrangements of the Passover. It is assumed that the children, observing this preparation, would ask their parents what was meant by it. In answering the children the parents were thus afforded a good opportunity of stating to the child the facts in connection with their redemption from bondage. So today, in like manner, the Lord's supper is often the means of arousing questions in the minds of both children and adults. What is the communion service? What does it represent? What truth does it teach? In answering these questions the Christian afforded an opportunity of stating the facts of the Christian faith.

First, the Communion commemorates a fact of history. One can take boat or train and soon arrive at Calvary. He may climb this hill and reach its summit where once stood the cross on which Jesus Christ died. No intelligent person will deny the historicity of the fact of Christ's death.

Second, the Communion is a fact of Christian faith. True, Jesus died, but what did he die for? Here Christian faith declares itself by answering, "He died for our sins." The question of sin must be dealt with, its debt must be paid, the divine wrath against it must be appeased, some ground must be found upon which a righteous God may deal in mercy and pardon with sinful man. The Communion table tells us that all this has been accomplished in the death of Christ. It acknowledges the reality of both sin and death, and relates these two great facts in the death of Christ. In the words of Jesus we say, "This cup is the New Testament in my blood, shed for the remission of sins." Preachers may deny the vicarious atonement of Christ; the pulpit may be silent touching the substitutionary character of Christ's death, but this table has proclaimed since Christ's death and will proclaim until he comes the fact that he died for our sins; that "Bearing shame and scoffing rude,

Sealed my pardon with His blood,
Hallelujah, What a Savior!"

The Communion is a fact of prophecy. "As oft as ye eat this bread and drink this cup ye do show forth the Lord's death till he come." A fact of history, a fact of Christian faith, a fact of prophecy—that the Communion links itself to the past, present and future. It reminds us of our Lord, who, while present in spirit, is absent in body, and assures us that he will some day come again personally and visibly to this earth. There are two pledges for Christ's second coming: The resurrection (Acts 17:31), the pledge to the world; the Lord's supper (1 Cor. 11:25), the pledge to the church. The Communion table is aglow with hope and promise; it constantly preaches the second coming of Christ. Every time we gather around this table we should look forward with joy to that glorious day when we shall see not only our blessed Lord, but also "those whom we have loved long since and lost awhile."

"When from loved ones we are parted,
And our eyes are dimmed with tears—
Almost feel we broken-hearted,
As we struggle with our fears.
But, it will not be forever,
We shall meet them all at home;
Separations will then be over,
They are only 'Till He come.'"

The Communion is a fact of memorial. Jesus said, "Do this in remembrance of me." The Communion is to be a tangible reminder to us of our Lord. Sight helps memory. How the mementoes we have of our loved ones remind us of them, of what they were to us, and of our love for them. We soon forget what we do not see. Is it not strange that of all that Jesus did when he was here upon the earth the one thing he would have us remember was not his life—wondrous as that was, nor his miracles—startling as they were, not even his resurrection—convincing as it was of all supernatural claims, but his death. The Communion table is a memorial of that death, and every time we gather around it we please the Master by doing that last thing he asked his disciples to do in remembrance of him. "The mother goes to the bureau and from the drawer she takes two little shoes. They are simple, and plain, and worn; they have no commercial value, but, oh, what a flood of memories they bring to her heart and mind and soul as she thinks of the one who has died! Let us not forget our Master; he will not forget us.

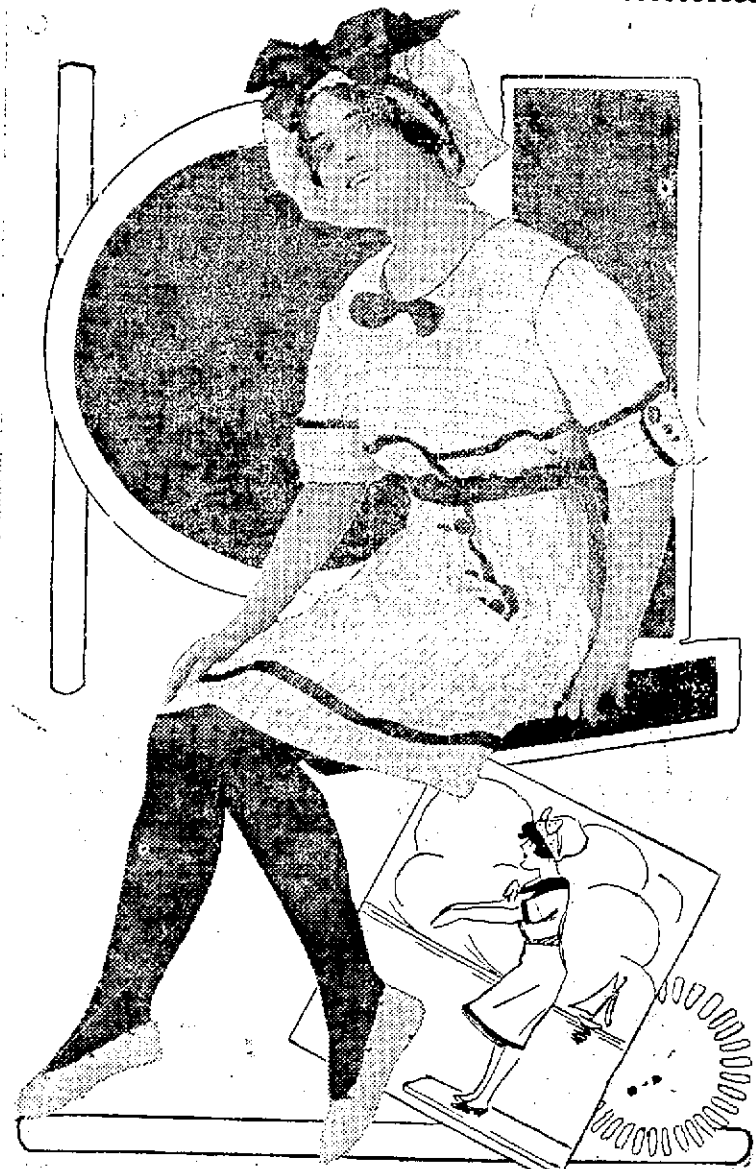

"Help me, dear Savior, Thee to own
And ever faithful be;
And when Thou sittest on Thy throne—
Dear Lord, remember me."

Healthy Baby is Precious Blessing

To Make It Healthy and Keep It Healthy Use a Reliable Baby Laxative.

In spite of the greatest personal care and the most intelligent attention to diet, babies and children will become constipated, and it is a fact that constipation and indigestion have wrecked many a young life. To start with a good digestive apparatus is to start life without handicap.

But as we cannot all have perfect working bowels, we must do the next best thing and acquire them, or train them to become healthy. This can be done by the use of a laxative—tongue very highly recommended by a great many mothers. The remedy is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and has been on the market for two generations. It can be bought conveniently at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, and those who are already convinced of its merits buy the dollar size.

Its mildness makes it the ideal medicine for children, and it is also very pleasant to the taste. It is sure in its effect and genuinely harmless. Very little of it is required and its frequent use does not cause it to lose its effect, as is the case with so many other remedies.

DOROTHY JOHNSON

Thousands can testify to its merits in constipation, indigestion, biliousness, sick headaches, etc., among them reliable people like Mrs. M. Johnson, 627 Dayton St., Kenosha, Wis. She is the mother of little Dorothy Johnson who was always in perfect health until her mother gave her Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mrs. Johnson says, "I never saw such (2.) Verses 26-27—What would you say is the proof that man is like God?

Jan. 19, Man's First Sin. Gen. iii. Golden Text—Every one that committeth sin is the bondservant of sin. John viii:34.

(3.) Verse 1—Lying and stealing, with some other sins, often look to be advantageous to those who are tempted, but why does God forbid them?

Jan. 26, Cain and Abel. Gen. ii:1-11:15. Golden Text—Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer. 1 John iii:15.

(4.) Verses 5-7—What sin had Cain been guilty of up to this time?

Feb. 2, The Flood. Gen. vi:9-22; vii:1-24. Golden Text—The wages of sin is death; but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. Rom. vi:23.

(5.) Verses 11-23—What was the nature of the badness of which the world was guilty that God determined to destroy it? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Feb. 9, God's Covenant With Noah. Gen. viii:1-ix:17. Golden Text—I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth. Gen. ix:13.

(6.) Verses 4-5—Do the chief events in our lives come about by our own plans or through the providence of God? Give your reasons.

Feb. 16, The Call of Abram. Gen. xii:1-9. Golden Text—I will bless thee and make thy name great, and be thou a blessing. Gen. xii:2.

(7.) Verse 1—How had Abram learned to know the voice of God?

Feb. 23, Abram and Lot. Gen. xiii:1-18. Golden Text—The blessing of Jehovah it maketh rich, and it addeth no sorrow therewith. Prov. x:22.

(8.) Verse 7—Is it possible or impossible, and why, for two parties to quarrel without either party being to blame for the cause of the quarrel?

March 2, God's Covenant With Abraham. Gen. xv:1-18. Golden Text—He is faithful that promised. Heb. x:23.

(9.) Verses 5-6—Why was it that Abram doubted at one moment and had such sublime faith the next?

March 9, The Destruction of Sodom. (A Temperance Lesson.) Gen. xix:1-3. 12:29. Golden Text—Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate.

saith the Lord, and touch no unclean thing. II Cor. vi:17.

(10.) Verse 17—Why is intemperance a sin of such great magnitude and danger that we ought to urge men to fly for their lives from it?

March 16, The Test of Abraham's Faith. Gen. xxii:1-10. Golden Text—I desire goodness, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. Hos. vi:6.

(11.) Verse 1—Abraham had passed through some wonderful tests of his faith. What does it suggest that God tested him still further?

March 23, Isaac and Rebekah. Gen. xxiv. Golden Text—In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he will direct thy paths. Prov. iii:6.

(12.) Verses 2-9—Isaac was thirty-six years old when Abraham, his father, sent his servant to seek him a wife; would you say that every man should marry, and, if so, at what age?

Lessons for Sunday, April 6, 1913. Jacob and Esau. Gen. xxv:27-34; xxviii:1-45.

A Remarkable Remedy

For Stomach, Liver and Intestinal Ailments, Appendicitis and Gall Stones.

If you are suffering from these ailments and unable to obtain a cure, Don't Give Up Hope. One dose of Myster's Wonderful Stomach Remedy, the most widely known Remedy for Stomach, Liver and Intestinal Ailments, Gastritis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Pressure of Gas Around the Heart, Sour Stomach, Distress After Eating, Nervousness, Dizziness, Fainting Spells, Sick Headache, Constipation, Congested and Torpid Liver, Yellow Jaundice, Appendicitis, and Gall Stones, will positively convince you of its great powers to cure. It has cured thousands of sufferers. It has saved many lives. It has prevented many dangerous surgical operations. Put it to a test. Try one dose tonight. Let one dose prove its great merit. You are not asked to take this remedy for weeks before you feel benefited—one dose will convince you that it should cure you. Prepared by Geo. H. Myster, M.D., Chemist, 354-156 Whiting St., Chicago.

Always Have Musterole in the House

Every family should have a jar of MUSTEROLE at hand.

MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment, which takes the place of the old-fashioned mustard plaster and does not blister.

No plaster is necessary, simply rub it on—and the pain is gone! It is the quickest relief for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chills, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it prevents Pneumonia). Nothing like MUSTEROLE for croupy children.

At your druggist's in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50. Sold by druggists everywhere. Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, O., and we will mail you a jar, postage prepaid.

William Noss, Sacramento, Cal.—"Our friends and ourselves would not willingly be without Musterole, as it has saved doctors' expenses many times."

Tuberculosis Medicine Saved This Man's Life

Pneumonia is a serious disease, and often lays the foundation for chronic lung troubles—sometimes Tuberculosis results. After Pneumonia, it is wise to take Eckman's Asthma, Don't wait to find out whether the trouble is getting worse, but take Eckman's Asthma in time and avoid the dangers of disease. Read of the recovery in this case:

336 No. 41st St., Chicago, Ill.

"Gentlemen: I am getting along very nicely and feeling stronger all the time. I now weigh 121 pounds, a gain since September 10, 1907, of 28 pounds more than when I first started to take the alternative. I wish I had known of it two years ago, as it would have saved me much misery and distress. I was suffering from a very serious case of pneumonia, which followed a bad attack of influenza. My physician and a specialist declared my case hopeless. I cannot but be thankful to you and the Malaria Cure for the great blessing and change of health it has brought me."

(Sworn Affidavit) THOS. KELLY.

(Five years later, reports good health.)

Eckman's Asthma is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in rebuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet, telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and Smith Drug Co., McClellan & Doss, Peoples Drug Co., 10 Janesville.

Either telephone line number 10 will reach the Baker Drug Store if it is desired to call them in connection with The Gazette's business.

A Stirring Story of Military Adventure and of a Strange Wartime Wooing

Copyright, 1912, by G. P. Putnam's Sons.

"I don't know. How about war itself? Here you have it, the deadliest kind—brother against brother. I tell you, Hart, we haven't seen the worst yet, though God knows there's enough to make the angels in heaven weep already."

"Well, one thing is certain—these hostages won't be sacrificed unless the Confederate prisoners are executed first—so our side will have the first move anyhow."

"What sort of consolation is that to the fellows who get shot or hung?" Here another violent commotion interrupted. Bright Mason entered—a lone, disheveled, brave-eyed apparition.

"Oh, Tom!" she gasped breathlessly. "What—you poor child, are you still here?" Cox exclaimed, this time gathering her nervously into his arms. "You must leave this accursed place or you will go mad—if you don't drive us so."

"I've come back to tell you there's more news."

"Of what? Of whom?"

"From Washington—of the Confederate prisoners. General Winder has just received a dispatch."

"Great Heavens!" ejaculated Hart. "Didn't I tell you so?"

"What does the dispatch say?" asked Cox.

"I don't know, but it is favorable. I am sure—that is, there aren't going to be any executions. I heard the general say that much."

"Here comes the commissary," announced Hart.

"For God's sake, Captain Warner," said Cox, as that official reappeared, "don't keep us in this horrible suspense another minute! What's the latest news?"

"There's a woman about—what more do you want?" replied Warner. "She overheard a secret about a minute ago and as a natural result it's all over the place by this time."

"I beg of you, cap, on my bended knees," pleaded Hart, snatching the action to the word.

"Well," said the commissary captain, very deliberately taking a paper from his pocket, "I suppose you-uns may as well be put out of your misery. Here's a copy of the dispatch General Winder has got from Abe Lincoln. I thought the Washington government would back down."

He handed the paper to Cox, who read eagerly aloud:

President learns from New York trial of Confederate cruiser prisoners resulted in disagreement of jury. Leniency to be shown. Proposed holding of Union hostages in jeopardy at Richmond unnecessary. Question of exchange referred to separate negotiations pending on that subject.

SIMON CAMERON, Secretary of War.

"You see, I was right this time," said Cox triumphantly.

"Hooray! Here come the boys back!" cried Deacon Hart. "What did I say about faith in Providence? This is going to be a blessed Thanksgiving, even if we ain't exchanged yet."

"Oh, Tom, this is your last chance!" whispered Marie as the tramp of approaching footsteps was heard outside.

"Last chance for what?" asked Captain Cox, with exasperating stupidity.

"Why, to kiss me."

Such was life, as it was along in the Libby warehouse prisons. Sometimes, as in the instance just related, the emotions of years were crowded into a single hour. Ordinarily, the heavy days dragged so that each one seemed a weary lifetime. The hope of exchange was ever hope deferred. Plots and plans of escape served to beguile the intolerable cannal of captivity and to bring a passing flush of excitement to wan cheeks—and that was about all.

A warm brotherly affection had sprung up between Captain Ralph Hunt, the weak but courageous consumptive, and Lieutenant Frank Bedloe, the youthful spirit of the southern community, who was more or less a mystery to his closest comrades, yet who bore a sort of "daredevil" reputation even among those who knew him but slightly or not at all. Bedloe fairly burned to be free and fighting again, and he lost sleep straining at the idea of escape. He had been in every for-born hope of the kind since his arrival and was under special surveillance, perhaps on this account, perhaps at the instance of a certain Confederate secret service officer, Thornton by name.

Other Union prisoners in Libby were allowed occasional visitors and received presents of food and clothing from home. No such remembrances ever reached Lieutenant Bedloe. No letters came to him, nor was he known to write any. It was even uncertain to what state he belonged, and if he had a home, relatives or friends he never made any allusion to them. War was war, not a picnic, he said. Once a soldier, it was "all out" with other ties. His one object was to win military distinction, meaning rapid promotion for conspicuous gallantry.

Precisely the opposite of this fierce and sober obsession was the character of Ralph Hunt—frank, gentle, confident, childlike in some qualities as well as in some weaknesses. But he loved Bedloe, and his own ambitions, as the tide of a blighted life slowly but surely ebbed, merged into one grand desire to do something for the strong, high spirited, dashing commander who had contributed so much to clear the horrible gloom of prison existence.

The opportunity came in an odd and unexpected way. Hunt's kind southern friends had the happy thought to replace his dilapidated uniform with a new suit of clothes—citizen's clothes, of course, and of the good homely material known as "butterfat." As a matter of fact, the whole Confederate army, especially after the first year of the war, was sprinkled with buttnerut of various shades. The "uniforms" were anything but uniform. A gray coat, a gray pair of trousers, or a gray hat, sufficed to mark the followers of Lee and Jackson, and some soldiers went through all the campaigns clad in their home garb as farmers or mountaineers. A supreme service was devised for Ralph Hunt's new suit the very day it arrived.

"You are the man to get away with it, Frank," insisted the owner of the clothes. "The opportunity is wasted on me."

"Ralph is right," declared Captain Cox. "You can make as good use of your liberty as any officer here, Lieutenant Bedloe. No, don't think of me. I have something else in view for myself."

So it came about that one morning when Captain Warner had been replaced by a subordinate named Turner as acting commissary and the guard for the Potomac room had been newly changed, a gawky youth in buttnerut (Frank had contrived to shave off his beard and mustache) slipped out behind the officer who had perfunctorily counted the prisoners and in a twinkling was mixed up with the free southerners who lounged about the place on one pretext or another, though he was still on the wrong side of the railing that constituted the dead line. Here Turner was stationed, sitting at a desk just within the pale.

"Hello, cap—do they keep you busy?" drawled the youth in buttnerut, matching his clothes with the assumed accent of a North Carolina tarheel.

"Who the devil are you?" demanded the official, glancing up from his records, "and what are you doing here?"

"I'm from North Carolina, and I followed the guard in so far as to get a look at them 'ere Yankee prisoners. I'm going to the front tomorrow and I thought before I went I'd like to see what these Yanks looked like."

"Go to the front and be cursed, and there you'll see more Yanks than you want to. Now, get out of here and stay out."

"All right, cap, you needn't be so sassy about it," retorted the supposed tarheel as he lurched out through the wicket and made for the door, where, rolling a quid of tobacco in his cheek, he winked at the armed guard and passed out.

Here was where Lieutenant Frank Bedloe, daredevil, demonstrated his old self again. Instead of disconcerting with all possible celerity, as any man of ordinary nerve would have done, once escaped from Libby prison, he deliberately crossed the street to the vacant lot opposite and stood there a minute or two with his hands in his pockets, gazing up at the barred front windows of the big brick building to see if any of his comrades in captivity had ventured across the dead line to catch a glimpse of his actual departure for "God's country."

A few pale faces could be dimly discerned within. To these Frank waved a parting salute, murmuring, "Goodby; I hope we'll meet again somewhere else."

Then he sloshed off in the direction of the Rocketts, down the bend of the James river.

Did you ever cough for a week? Then just think how distressing it must be to have a cough hang on for three months.

Mrs. Maria Primrose of 87 Newell street, Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I had a very heavy cold which settled into a chronic cough which kept me awake nights for fully three months, and felt tired all the time because my rest was broken. The effect of taking your cod liver and iron remedy Vinol is that my cough is gone. I can now get a good night's rest and I feel much stronger in every way."

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements cod's livers aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so efficient for chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Smith Drug Co., Janesville, Wis.

FORMER RESIDENTS WRITE FROM OMAHA

LETTER FROM MRS. C. E. STEPHENSON TELLS OF DESTRUCTION OF SUNDAY'S STORM.

IN PATH OF CYCLONE

Home Badly Damaged But Withstands the Wind While Neighbors' Houses are Shattered.

Mrs. G. M. Dopp, 1803 Mineral Point avenue, has received a letter from her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Stephenson, formerly Miss Ethel Dopp, of this city, who lives at 1834 North 34th street, Bemis Park, Omaha, a section which was swept by Sunday's cyclone. The letter describes graphically the conditions which exist in the Nebraska metropolis.

Another daughter, Mrs. C. Stoller, also lives at Omaha, and although both the Stoller and Stephenson homes are in the devastated district, they escaped with much less damage than others. The letter is as follows:

Omaha, March 25, 1913.

Dear Mamma and All:

We are alive to tell the tale. Suppose you got Carl's card today telling you we were over to Fay's when the tornado struck. They say it is the worst tornado that has ever been. We all thought our time had come. I can't begin to tell you about it but will mail you a couple of papers. We just got your telegram tonight. Carl tried to send you a wire yesterday morning, but there was only one wire out of Omaha and that was the Associated Press and they wouldn't let you use that.

We left here at 4:30 Sunday and walked down Parker to 24th street, then north on 24th to Lake, then to Fay's. Got there about 5:15. Just got there when it started to rain. Rained for about ten minutes. Then let up and everything was so still. The sky looked so strange. M. C. said there's going to be something doing. Then the roaring started.

We all went to the front window and I never will forget that awful, awful sight in the sky. It seemed like it was dropping right over us. We all ran for the cellar just as the glass in the front broke in and the window in the kitchen broke. As soon as it was over we came up and looked out. Oh! it was terrible. From Lake north there wasn't a house and from 20th over to 24th just west of Fay's.

Then the fires started on 24th street, and the wind was blowing a gale, but it was from the south. The Idlewild Pool hall on 24 went down and the wreckage set on fire. We could hear the glass and timber falling. The smoke was terrible and people crying for help. It was awful.

There isn't a building left for blocks around 24th and Lake. We were all very calm when we went to the cellar.

M. C. said, "Here's where we all go." I said, "well we will all go together."

They had Donald with them. I had Carl and Big Carl had Elmer in his arms. We certainly faced death, but none of us were afraid. I never was as calm in my life. After it was all over I was as limp as a dish rag. As soon as it was over the young man next door came over for a lantern. M. C. had four, gave them two and kept one for M. C. and Carl.

All the wires were down and there was so much danger until the power was shut off. Danger of live wires. He said Walnut Hill and everything out our way was all wiped out.

Every way you looked you could see big fires. Will, Carl and M. C. started to see if they could find our house. They climbed over fallen houses, trees and poles and finally got there to find our house all safe. Mrs. Tanner was so glad to see Carl she threw her arms around his neck and kissed him; and cried. Hendersons had just come down here to see if we were all right. When Tanners told them where we were they said, "They are all dead then. Everything is gone down in there."

Mr. Tanner was just putting on his coat to go and hunt us. Bemis Park and West Farnum are all gone but those people can stand their loss better. We can stand in our kitchen window and see all east of our houses down. We came home yesterday. Of course we had to stay all night and not one block from Fay's until we got to 33rd and Parker just a block from our house did we see a block with more than one or two houses standing. It looked funny to see a whole row of houses standing.

The town is under martial law. You can't go anywhere without a pass. We had hard work getting home yesterday. Carl and Mr. Tanner went out and got us a pass, so we can get out. Fay is coming out tomorrow and we are going out on the west side. We went down to Bemis Park yesterday P. M. There isn't anything left. There are only two car lines in the city working and they are Sherman avenue and Farnam street.

O, mamma I wish you could come out here and see the sights. There was a special in from Chicago today with newspaper men and Red Cross nurses. They were coming from all over to see the sights. I called up the Midland Hotel and they said Mr. Powell was alright, but was out, so I didn't talk to him. Downtown wasn't touched at all. The electric lights are all out over town. They can't turn on the power on account of all the wires down. We have one little lamp and two candles, but feel thankful to think we have that much. Will close now and go to bed. Will write again soon. Lots of love to all. Write soon. Lovingly,

ETHEL.

"OUR WIVES"

Allen Dale the New York dramatic writer says of "Our Wives" here on Saturday:

First aid to "Our Wives!" Here's a jolly, clever, innocuous, and quite out-of-the-common little play, that may be snowed under. For it is among the theatrical fotsam and jetsam lavishly cast on the Broadway

(or two!) (or three!)

"Our Wives" is at Wallack's, as you may glean. It is there—well, because it is there. Wallack's is just twice too big for it, for it is a small play, acted in one room, which should be intimate, cozy, warm, snug and magnetic. To counteract the "big effect" of Wallack's, however, that room has been very charmingly staged. It looks like Belasco, with its handsome, or-strand this week. It is one of seven, and it isn't always the fittest that survives. First aid to "Our Wives!" It would be ten thousand pities if such an ingenious and well-written little play sank beneath the wave, crowded out by the further-up town attractions. Further uptown, forsooth! Don't be so clannish, so provincial, so sleepy. To chauffeur twelve blocks is a minute. To a taxicab it is but a dollar nate Louis-lights. It is a benign and delightful room, and very soon you forget that it is so big.

The little play is "From the German" by Helen Krafft and Frank Mandel. I don't know these good people at all, but they certainly have the gift of concise, pointed and witty dialogue. Never once does one scent an "ad libitum." The play is localized with quite unusual success.

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES.

Every country school in Rock county should subscribe for and use regularly each week the weekly condensed newspaper known as Current Events. The use of this little paper will wake up the boys and girls. The principal of the training school recommends that this paper be used for reading work in upper form classes.

Rachel Ehringer, a graduate of last year's class, who has teaching near Ottumwa, visited the training school on Thursday and got several suggestions for her school work. It is hoped that others will do likewise. The last number of "The Wisconsin Journal of Education" has a digest of educational measures now before the state legislature. Several bills pertain to the improvement of rural schools.

Arbor and Bird day comes on Friday, May 2, this year. What are you planning for proper observance of this important day? Maybe your yard needs cleaning up. Maybe you can plant a tree. Maybe you can get that garden started. Do something surely of a practical nature.

H. I. Craft of Chicago was a visitor in the office on Tuesday. The senior essays are being prepared and their presentation will begin shortly after vacation.

Vacation comes next week and school begins again on April 7. Lena Sands of Madison and Mary Cullen of Milton Junction visited the training school on Tuesday.

Margaret Vickerman and Helen Gray took the teachers' examination in Supt. Antisdel's office on Friday of last week.

Nellie Maloy is obliged to miss her examinations on account of an attack of tonsillitis. Miss Burdick will spend her vacation at her home in Easton, Wis. Miss Jacobson goes to Elkhorn to be with her people, and Mr. Lowth expects to spend a couple of days in Dodge county, his old home.

Mary Fisher, one of the rural teachers of the county, visited classes at the training school on Tuesday.

Maribel Cowdery of the city high school called at the training school the fore part of the week. Cecile E. Bradford visited her sister, Florence Bradford, at the school all day Monday. Miss Bradford is a country teacher and her visit to the training school gave her many helpful suggestions, so she stated. It is hoped that country teachers will make increasing use of the school.

The problem of last week aroused so much interest that another is ventured herewith. Two men decide to divide eight gallons of cider equally between them. The cider is in a keg which holds just eight gallons. The only measures they have are a five gallon keg and a three gallon bucket; how can they make the division?

Alice Wilder of Evansville visited the classes at the training school on Tuesday.

The plan for observation and practice in country school is working out well. Some of the seniors will begin this helpful work next week.

The state superintendent has sent out a very interesting bulletin concerning a digest of all the educational bills now before the legislature. Next Tuesday is election day and the women may exercise the right of suffrage for school officials. The real teacher is made only by a wholesome participation in life, wherein books and schools are the accessories of a dominant interest in human life itself.—Henry Suzzallo.

Time-Savers in School Keeping.

1. Definite plans for daily work.
2. Right temperature and proper ventilation.
3. Order in calling and dismissing classes and in pupils' movements at all times.
4. Pupils kept so busy that there is no time for mischief.
5. Properly assigned lessons.
6. A minimum amount of talk by the teacher.
7. Essential points of lessons emphasized.
8. Lessons carefully prepared by both teachers and pupils.

Business Annoyances.

"I suppose nearly everybody wants something cheaper than you have in stock."

"No," said the girl at the counter, "occasionally somebody wants something more expensive."

"Ah!"

"And the trouble is that you can never size 'em up in time to write a new price tag."

Microbes in Your Scalp

Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair try our remedy at our risk.

Professor Urtan, of Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the great French Dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and their theory has been verified by eminent scientists. This microbe destroys the hair follicles, in time causing the scalp pores to close and the scalp to become shiny. Then, it is believed nothing will revive the growth. If treated before this occurs, baldness may be overcome.

We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp and hair as Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the cause of falling hair as discovered by Prof. Urtan, Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than anything else can to remove dandruff and stop falling hair; and if any human agency can revive the growth of hair it will do that, too.

We want you to make us prove it. We will pay for a month's treatment of Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic used during a trial, if you will use it according to directions, and are not thoroughly satisfied. When we will do this, you surely should not hesitate to at least try it.

Start the treatment today. Your mere request will get your money back if you want it. Two sizes: 50c and $1.00.

You can buy Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic in this community only at our store.

Dinner Stories

Two young Americans touring Italy for the first time stopped off one night at Pisa, where they fell in with a convivial party at a cafe. Going hilariously home one pushed the other against a building and held him there. "Great heaven!" cried the man next the wall, suddenly glancing up at the structure above him. "See what we're doing!" Both roisters fled. They left town on an early morning train, not thinking it safe to stay over and see the famous leaning tower.

There is an Indianapolis attorney who is known for his dignity and who rarely indulges in "flowery" oratory in arguing a case. Some years ago, however, he was engaged in a murder case in which the guilt of the prisoner was apparent, and the lawyer's friends advised him to be "flowery"—in an effort to appeal to the sentiment of the jurors. So the attorney took his friends' advice.

"Down in the hills of old Kentucky stands a little cottage," he began. "Around the cottage vines are clinging and in the doorway stands a gray-haired mother, waiting—"

"As I was saying down in the hills of Kentucky stands a little cottage. Around the cottage vines are clinging and in the doorway stands a gray-haired mother, waiting."

The lawyer paused and his face turned red. "And while she is standing there, waiting," he continued, "I guess we might as well discuss the facts in this case."
